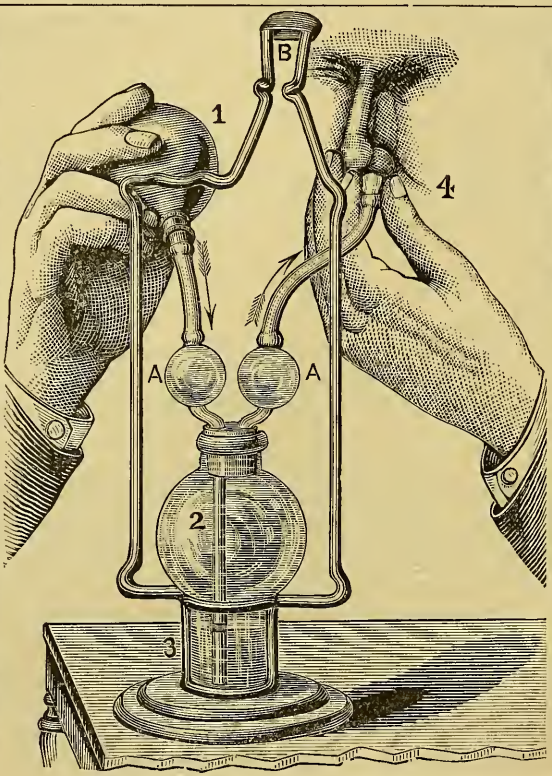
Air Medicator and Injector

The adjoining illustration is of the Air Medicator and Injector in use. No. 1 is the blowing bulb, 2 the air chamber, 3 the reservoir, 4 the nose piece as held by the fingers.



AA are two glass bulbs blown in the upper ends of the glass tubes to prevent the liquid from being forced through them. B represents standards or frame with keepers for nose-piece and blowing bulb.

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

We desire to call the attention and scrutiny of the medical profession to the "Air Medicator and Injector," being fully persuaded that a proper examination of the instrument will convince them that it supplies a more thorough and convenient means of medication for the respiratory system than any other mechanical device ever before offered them.

The advantage of the instrument over all douches and inhalers must be at once quite apparent, for any remedy, applied by the douche, or inhaling method, acts simply by force of gravity in the former case, or by the lung power of the patient in the latter, so that ducts, sinuses and tubes—occluded by depositions of membranous and follicular secretions—would be passed over, and not reached at all, or barely touched at their mouths, whereas, by means of the INJECTOR—which acts as a force pump—these passages are opened and inflated, and the medicated air forced to penetrate each and every one throughout its whole extent, penetrating all the cavities communicating with the nose and mouth, and exercising its remedial power over all the ramifications and reflections of the mucous membrane.

Any remedy can be used that can be liquefied, or held in solution, as the air readily becomes impregnated with the properties of any liquid through which it makes its forced passage.

The following medications are employed by several physicians who have made this treatment a study, and are adopting it in their practice: Argenti Nit., Statice Caroliniana, Ext. Hamamellis, Tinct. Iodine, Fluid Hydrastis, Acid Carbolic, Ethereal Tinct. Lobelia, Pinus Canadensis, Fluid Ext. Yerba Reuma, Tinct. Opium, Solution Quinine, Chlorate Potash, Hydro-Chloride Ferri and water combined, Iodide and Bromide Potash. Other Remedies will be suggested as proper to be employed in a given case. Correspondence solicited. Address

THE McGREGOR MEDICATION,

No. 36 Arcade, - CINCINNATI, O.

INTRODUCTORY.

The story of its inception and of the means adopted by the publishers for collecting the voluminous information it contains, and some account of the innumerable difficulties that had to be overcome in its compilation, will probably best convey to the profession for whose use it is designed, a correct idea of the value of The Medical and Surgical Directory and Register of the United States.

The urgent necessity of such a work had long been apparent to the profession. Every enlightened physician deplored the fact that the United States almost alone among the civilized countries of the world, had no official list of its medical practitioners. The successful experience of the publishers in supplying the public with directories of various kinds was doubtless responsible for the many and urgent appeals made to them by practitioners in all parts of the country, to undertake the task of compiling and supplying such a register as was needed. In response to this demand, the work was commenced more than a year ago. Its plan was originally confined to a full list of the physicians and surgeons of the country, arranged by States and Territories, compiled alphabetically by city, town or village, and showing, as far as possible, the school of medicine practiced, the college from which each physician graduated, and the class year of graduation. This information is still the main feature of the work, but during compilation other valuable features were constantly suggested by members of the profession. Each suggestion was carefully considered by the publishers, and whenever it appeared of value, was adopted and incorporated in the work without regard to the increased expenditure of time, labor and money it involved.

The publishers are confident that an examination of these additional departments of information will show that nothing of interest to the profession and proper to such a work has been omitted.

The collection of the names and addresses alone, was a mammoth undertaking, and involved an enormous amount of travel, work and correspondence. Special agents were sent to all the cities; letters were written to every postal point too small to visit personally, and correspondence was opened with the secretary of every Medical society in the Union whose address could be obtained. It was thought that as most of the States possessed laws obliging practitioners to register, the official records of those states could be drawn upon with good effect, but only in the states of Illinois, California and Louisiana were these lists of any real value. In most of the other states they embraced not only all the physicians then practicing, but all who ever had registered, more than half of whom it was subsequently found had either died or migrated to other points.

After the names had been collected and arranged by states the really hard work commenced. Every individual whose name had been procured, from whatever source, was either called upon or addressed through the mails and requested to supply information regarding graduation. A postal card was invariably enclosed. Something over a hundred thousand such requests were made. After the returns came in, it was found that between thirty and forty thousand physicians whose names had been procured as previously explained, had died or moved away and could not be found by the postal authorities. Thousands who made no reply whatever to the communication were addressed again. In large cities when physicians were called upon by the agent representing the work, it was a frequent occurrence to be refused point blank, and it was only by diligent perseverance that the necessary facts were ascertained.

It would occur to some, possibly, that here the labor to a great extent ended, and all that was necessary was to print and deliver the work. Such, however, was not the case. On submitting some of the copy to a physician the publishers were surprised to see him pick out several returns and confidently challenge their correctness, with the assurance that the self styled graduates in these cases had no rightful claim to the title. This disclosed a difficulty of unexpected and alarming proportions. But however great the labor involved in its correction, the publishers determined that no such error should remain in the book. Only one thing was to be done. The name of every alleged graduate was checked with the official records of the college from which he or she claimed to have a diploma. It required the work of nearly thirty correspondents and compilers for four months to secure copies of the records, to make the comparisons, and to correct the discrepancies which numbered up into the thousands. In every case of this sort, explanations were asked by mail of both the self styled graduate and the college. Except in very few cases replies were received only from the college, and these almost invariably confirmed the suspicion already aroused. On the other hand, these letters brought hundreds of serious errors to light, especially in cases where, as frequently happened, the records of the college were imperfect and the name of a reputable alumnus had been accidentally omitted from the published list of the institution. Southern colleges suffered most in this respect, as their records were in many cases partially or entirely destroyed.

After the foregoing explanation it will readily be understood that the various symbols (an explanation of which is given in a foot note on each page) have only been used after the most diligent endeavors have failed to elicit any further particulars. It must, therefore, not be imagined that, because an asterisk (*) appears after the name of a physician, he is necessarily a non-graduate. Some so indicated are doubtless eminent in their profession, but the publishers have been unable to learn farther of them, and can, therefore, only say through the medium of the asterisk, "No report received in answer to enquiry regarding graduation." The utmost care has been used to ensure accuracy in this respect, and if any deem themselves misrepresented, this explanation will assure them that such misrepresentation was quite unintentional. That no labor or expense was spared in the endeavor to make such errors as rare as possible will not be questioned when it is known that over three hundred thousand letters were written either to secure or verify information, and that the amount of money spent for postage alone in this vast correspondence was very nearly ten thousand dollars. That the care and industry exercised to secure completeness and accuracy were signally successful appears in the pages of the book, where it will be seen that of little less than 80,000 names which are registered, nearly three-quarters are shown with school, college and class year of graduation.

But the correction of errors with respect to graduation did not end the difficulties of compilation. It was discovered next that several names appeared more than once, and an investigation showed that a very large proportion of country physicians had several addresses, and that their names appeared under each. Another overhauling of the work followed, resulting in the elimination of over seven thousand of these duplications. Finally the work of compilation closed with the extremely difficult correction of the names of female practitioners who had graduated or commenced practice as spinsters and subsequently married. It is perhaps unnecessary to add, that, to avoid all clerical errors which might have occurred in compilation, the matter in type was not only corrected by comparison with the copy, but also again checked with the original documentary information.

Nothing further remains in the way of explanation except to add some account of the actual contents of the book.

Its 1,455 pages contain the names of nearly 80,000 persons practicing medicine within the United States and the territories. Irrespective of pathy, these are conveniently arranged alphabetically by state, city and postoffice. Each name is accompanied by all the information attainable regarding place and time of graduation. In large cities even the street and number are given, and in all cases the population of the place is set down. To avoid the enormous bulk that would have resulted from giving the full name of the college, and school of medicine practiced, a convenient and intelligible system of symbols was adopted, which is fully explained in a foot-note on each page. At the commencement of the list for each state and territory is a good descriptive article, embodying such matters as location, boundaries, extent in miles and acres, latitude and longitude, statistics regarding climate, temperature, population, rate of mortality, number of deaths from consumption, and the names and locations of the best known mineral springs, all medical and charitable institutions, medical societies, and the full text of all state laws relating to the profession. In addition to this complete directory, the 80,000 names are repeated without addresses, arranged alphabetically, accompanied only by figures, whereby the reader can readily find each name in its appropriate place in the directory proper. This list will prove of great convenience, as it will enable any one to find the present location and address of any physician in the United States whose name he knows. It will doubtless bring many old friends into communication who have lost track of one another since graduation, and possibly in some cases discover the whereabouts of others who would prefer to remain concealed.

Preceding the directory of names are departments, prepared with great care, giving full lists of all medical colleges, either existing or extinct, in the United States and Canada, of officers of the medical departments of the United States army, navy, marine hospital service and pension department, and a complete directory of the medical journals of the United States.

Among the many thousands whom the publishers desire to thank for assistance during the compilation of the work, are the Illinois State Board of Health and its able secretary, J. H. Rauch, M. D. The lists of colleges, State laws, and much other valuable matter, have been, by permission, taken almost entirely from their records. The various State and United States officials have in all cases exhibited a ready willingness to supply all information in their power, as also have the secretaries of boards of health and medical societies generally.

It is intended that this volume shall be regularly issued, and in accordance with that intention a second edition of the work will appear in due course, in which improvements and additions will be made.

MEDICAL SCHOOLS AND STUDENTS IN THE UNITED STATES.

The Illinois State Board of Health has recently issued a pamphlet entitled "Medical Education and Medical Colleges in the United States and Canada, 1765–1885," in which the most suggestive facts revealed by tables and data are: First, that the number of medical colleges has not increased during the past year; secondly, that the number of medical students and medical graduates is decreasing; and, thirdly, that there is a more marked uniformity in the requirements of colleges. There are still 128 institutions for medical instruction in the United States and Canada, the same aggregate as at the date of the last report; but there were 760 less students in attendance upon, and 273 less graduates from, the sessions of 1884–85 than upon and from the sessions of 1883–84. In the United States there were 953 fewer students and 278 fewer graduates; in Canada there were 176 more students and 5 more graduates. The schools are classified as follows: Regular schools, 101; homœopathic, 13; eclectic, 11; physio-medical, 1; and miscellaneous or mixed schools, 2. The number of medical students in 1882–83 was 13,088; in 1883–84, 12,762; in 1884–85, 12,002. In 1881-82 the number of medical graduates was 4,555; in 1882–83, 4,215; in 1883–84, 4,101; and in 1884–85, only 3,831. The increase in past years in students is most conspicuous in the smaller provincial schools, while in the large cities—Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Chicago, New Orleans and St. Louis—there has generally been a decrease. Thus the number of matriculants in medical schools in New York has fallen from 2,209 in 1880–81 to 1,829 in 1884–85. This fact may be interpreted in two ways. It may either mean that the metropolitan schools are getting more rigid in their requirements, or that the provincial schools are getting to be better educational institutions. We incline to the latter belief. The decrease in the number of graduates noted above is most satisfactory, indicating as it does a recognition on the part of the rising generation of the fact that in the United States, of all professions, the medical is, and for years has been, the most overcrowded.—The Lancet, February 6, 1886.

ARMY MEDICAL MUSEUM AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

The Army Medical Museum occupies a portion of the building (Nos. 509 and 511 Tenth st., N. W.), formerly known as Ford's Theatre. The rest of the building is occupied by the Division of the Surgical Records, the Record and Pension Division, the Laboratory, and the Library of the Surgeon General's Office.

The museum was founded, and a large portion of the medical and surgical specimens collected, during the war of the rebellion. Since the close of the war, however, the officers in charge have continued to collect specimens from the medical officers of the army at the several military posts, and a number of valuable specimens have been contributed by physicians engaged in private practice. Specimens of value from private physicians are always gladly received, and thus secure permanent preservation in connection with the names of the donors.

According to the report of the surgeon general for the fiscal year, terminating July 1, 1885, the museum contains 9,223 pathological specimens, 2,271 anatomical specimens, 9,103 microscopical specimens, and 1,705 specimens of comparative anatomy. The collection is open to visitors daily from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., and was visited last year by more than 22,000 persons. The officer in charge is Surgeon J. S. Billings, United States Army.

This collection is richer in specimens, illustrative of the results of gunshot wounds, and of the surgical operations which they necessitate, than any other collection in the world. In other departments, though it does not equal some of the wealthy and long established museums of Europe, its collections are nevertheless by far the most important in America, and are annually increasing in extent and value.

The library of the surgeon general's office, which occupies a portion of the same building, is also under the charge of Surgeon J. S. Billings, United States Army, and is by far the largest and most valuable medical library in America. According to the surgeon general's report, above referred to, it contains about 65,000 bound volumes and 86,000 pamphlets, and is steadily increasing. Medical men from any part of the country desirous of consulting the works in this library, are courteously welcomed, and granted free access.

A new building for the accommodation of the Army Medical Museum and the library of the surgeon general's office is now in course of construction. It is located in the public grounds east of the national museum, and will probably be ready for occupation in the spring of 1887.

THE ARMY MEDICAL MUSEUM AT WASHNGTON, D. C.

The Army Medical Museum occupies a portion of the building (Nos. 509 and 511 Tenth st. N. W.), formerly known as Ford's Theatre. The rest of the building is occupied by the Division of the Surgical Records, the Record and Pension Division, the Laboratory, and the Library of the Surgeon General's Office.

The museum was founded, and a large portion of the medical and surgical specimens collected, during the war of the rebellion. Since the close of the war, however, the officers in charge have continued to collect specimens from the medical officers of the army at the several military posts, and a number of valuable specimens have been contributed by physicians engaged in private practice. Specimens of value from private physicians are always gladly received, and thus secure permanent preservation in connection with the names of the donors.

According to the report of the surgeon general for the fiscal year, terminating July 1, 1885, the museum contains 9,223 pathological specimens, 2,271 anatomical specimens, 9,103 microscopical specimens, and 1,705 specimens of comparative anatomy. The collection is open to visitors daily from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., and was visited last year by more than 22,000 persons. The officer in charge is Surgeon J. S. Billings, United States Army.

This collection is richer in specimens, illustrative of the results of gunshot wounds, and of the surgical operations which they necessitate, than any other collection in the world. In other departments, though it does not equal some of the wealthy and long established museums of Europe, its collections are nevertheless by far the most important in America, and are annually increasing in extent and value.

The library of the surgeon general's office, which occupies a portion of the same building, is also under the charge of Surgeon J. S. Billings, United States Army, and is by far the largest and most valuable medical library in America. According to the surgeon general's report, above referred to, it contains about 65,000 bound volumes and 86,000 pamphlets, and is steadily increasing. Medical men from any part of the country desirous of consulting the works in this library, are courteously welcomed, and granted free access.

A new building for the accommodation of the Army Medical Museum and the library of the surgeon general's office is now in course of construction. It is located in the public grounds east of the national museum, and will probably be ready for occupation in the spring of 1887.

St. Paul, Minn., May 23, 1885.

National Pharmacy Association, Baltimore. Gentlemen:—

It is with pleasure that I add my mite to the many endorsements of the excellence of Mineral Earth. I have used it somewhat extensively both in private practice and at the City and County Hospital; it is in my opinion the most reliable and satisfactory dressing in the market. Its advantage and virtue are particularly manifest when applied to old and indolent ulcers. Respectfully,

ARTHUR B. ANCKER, M. D.

Surgeon City and County Hospital, St. Paul, Minn.

Baltimore, June 2, 1885.

National Pharmacy Association, Balto. Gentlemen:—

I have used the samples of Mineral Earth you sent me in the treatment of old ulcers, both simple and syphilitic, and I have to assure you that the results were in general eminently satisfactory. Yours truly,

J. EDWIN MICHAEL, M. D.

Professor, Anatomy and Clinical Surgery, University of Maryland, Baltimore.

St. Louis, April 25, 1885.

National Pharmacy Association, Baltimore. Gentlemen:—

I have used your prepared Mineral Earth as a topical application in a variety of cases in my practice for some time with great satisfaction to myself, and with much benefit to my patients; viz: in chronic pruritus; wounds of various kinds to bone and soft parts; and especially for the arrest of hemorrhage in that troublesome affection known as fungus haematodes, in which it has never failed me in giving instant relief by checking the loss of blood, and thereby avoiding the great exhaustion which usually follows in such cases. I have prescribed it as an injection in gonorrhoea with much benefit to my patients. The report of the patients on whom I have used prepared Mineral Earth is that it is pleasant, clean, odorless and entirely painless. Very respectfully,

E. A. GRIVEAUD, M. D.

1402 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Kansas City, March 30, 1885.

National Pharmacy Association, Baltimore. Gentlemen:—

I have used your Mineral Earth for some months past, both in my private practice and at the College Dispensary and Clinique. In old syphilitic ulcers affecting any part of the body, but particularly the leg, I have seen the Mineral Earth stimulate healthy granulations after the second or third application, where other local applications have totally failed. I also use it to stimulate healthy granulations in extensive frost bites, and where the dressings are promptly attended to I have always received benefit from its use. Respectfully,

EUGENE R. LEWIS, A. M., M. D.

Professor of Surgery and Anatomy, University, Kansas City, Mo.

Cincinnati, June 15, 1885.

National Pharmacy Association, Baltimore. Gentlemen:—

Having used your Mineral Earth in the treatment of surgical injuries, cancers, chronic ulcers, oedematous and hyperaemic conditions, I cheerfully recommend it as a superior dressing in all cases where an antiseptic and disinfectant is indicated. In cancers (colloid and encephaloid) I have found it unequalled as a dressing.

Respectfully yours,

G. W. VAN VLECK, M. D.

Prof. Theory and Prac. Medicine, and Dean of the Medical University of Ohio, Cincinnati.

LAS VEGAS HOT SPRINGS,

NEW MEXICO.

Most Charming Summer and Winter Resort

IN AMERICA.

LAS VEGAS HOT SPRINGS has won popularity more rapidly than any other health and pleasure resort in America. The new hotel, the palatial "Montezuma," was opened in the spring of 1882, and has been thronged ever since, at all seasons of the year, by trans-continental tourists who have stopped here to rest;

BY INVALIDS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY

WHO HAVE COME TO ENJOY THE

Healthful Climate and get the Benefit of the Healing Baths;

by business men, investors and professional men, who find the Springs the social center of the Southwest, and the best place to meet men of prominence in that section; by lovers of the rod and gun, who have made their headquarters for their fishing and hunting expeditions into the mountains. It is scarcely an hour's walk up the canon to where the angler may bait his hook for trout, and from there all the way up to the Enchanted Lake, at the foot of Hermit's Peak, one may catch trout in the Gallinas at almost any point. In the same vicinity deer, elk, antelope, mountain grouse, ducks, wild turkeys, etc., are found in abundance, while the more venturesome hunter may, at the expense of two or three days' travel over the mountains, encounter nobler game, and enjoy the excitement of a bear hunt or the pursuit of the mountain lion. There are no finer game parks in the world than these mountains west and north of Las Vegas Hot Springs. The tourist who is weary of the old places will find everything interesting here. "The Montezuma" is one of the finest hotels in the country, lighted with gas, heated by steam, and provided with hot and cold water, in fact, complete in all its appointments.

The Bath House has a Capacity of 500 Baths per day and it is the verdict of visitors who are familiar with all the principal watering places in the East and West, that the bath house at Las Vegas Hot Springs is not surpassed by any. A branch railroad from the city of Las Vegas to the Springs conveys visitors back and forth at frequent intervals during the day.

"THE LANCET,"

The Original and Leading Medical Journal.

A First-class Journal of British and Foreign Medicine, Physiology, Surgery, Obstetrics and Medical Jurisprudence, Chemistry, Medical Psychology, Public Health, Criticism, Literature and Medical News.

At the commencement of the year 1880 THE LANCET was permanently enlarged from 72 to 80 pages. Notwithstanding this increase of space, it is frequently found necessary to give an additional 8 to 40 pages to meet the constantly growing demands upon its columns.

Medical Officers of Health and Sanitarians generally now find in THE LANCET an admirable section devoted to Sanitary Science, and a thoroughly effective channel for information and the publication of special news.

ALABAMA.

CAPITAL, MONTGOMERY.

POPULATION OF STATE, 1,262,505.

(Census of 1880.)

Males	622,629	Native	1,252,771
Females	639,876	Foreign	9,734
White	662,185	Chinese	4
Colored	600,103	Indians	213

Alabama extends from 30° 12′ north latitude to 35° north latitude, a distance of 331 miles, and from 84° 55′ to 85° 35′ west longitude, a distance of 214 miles, and is in the same latitude as Palestine, Northern Africa, Central China and Southern Japan. It is bounded on the east by Georgia, on the south by Florida and the Gulf of Mexico, on the west by Mississippi and on the north by Tennessee, and comprises an area of 50,722 square miles, or 32,462,080 acres. The history of Alabama dates back to the year 1540, when the country was invaded by the Spaniards, under De Soto. The next appearance of Europeans was in 1702. In 1817 the United States created a territory of what is now Alabama, and two years later it was admitted into the Union, being one of the first States added to the original thirteen. Alabama belongs to the great forest region of the continent. Large forests of hickory, poplar, chestnut, oak, mulberry and other deciduous trees still cover the northern portion of the State, while in the south the magnolia, live oak and other sub-tropical evergreens flourish, and the river bottoms are lined with canebrakes and cottonwood trees. The climate is warm and semi-tropical. The northern portion is considerably colder than the southern, which is accounted for more by its greater elevation than from its higher latitude. The mean annual temperature is 62.37 degrees as observed at Auburn, which is situated near the geographical centre of the State. The mean annual temperature in the valley of the Tennessee river is 60 degrees, and in the extreme south about 69 degrees. The rain fall of the State is quite noteworthy, averaging 63 inches, which are distributed with tolerable regularity throughout the seasons. The beautiful Tennessee river drains the northern portion of the State. Entering at the northeast, it makes a broad sweep of about 280 miles, and forms for a short distance the northwest boundary, before entering Tennessee on its way to join the Ohio at Paducah, Ky. The mineral resources of Alabama are valuable and of considerable range. Gold is found in the east central part of the State, though not in paying quantities. Magnetic iron, red and brown hematite, ochre and other iron ores are found in Shelby, Benton, Bibb, Jefferson and Tuscaloosa counties. In Talladega and Randolph counties manganese occurs. Black, buff and variegated marbles abound in Shelby and Talladega counties, and rich veins of bituminous coal cover nearly all the northern part of the State. Its mineral springs are famous for their medicinal properties and deserve more than passing notice, which is all they can receive in this brief sketch. The most noted are Bailey Springs, in Lauderdale county, nine miles from Florence; Bladon Springs, near the Tombigbee river in Clarke county; Blount Springs, in county of same name; Shelby Springs, in Shelby county, and the Valhermoso Springs, in Morgan county, 18 miles south of Huntsville. The following table shows the increase in population for the past 60 years.

1820	127,901	1860	964,201
1830	309,527	1870	996,992
1840	590,756	1880	1,262,505
1850	771,623

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments in operation at that time to have been 2,070. Capital invested, $9,668,008; number of hands employed, 10,019; wages paid, $2,500,504. The value of material used was $8,470,206 and the value of the products $13,565,504. The educational facilities are excellent, and comprise the University of Alabama, located at Tuscaloosa: the Medical College of Alabama, located at Mobile; the Law School, at Montgomery; Spring Hill College (Roman Catholic), in St. Joseph; Howard College (Baptist), in Marion, and the Emerson Institute in Mobile. The constitution provides that a State Board of Education shall establish through the State, in each township or other school district, one or more schools, at which all the children between the ages of five and 21 years may attend free of charge.

Rate of Mortality in Alabama as computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1,000 White.	Rate per 1,000 Colored.
1,262,505	17,929	14.20	8,329	9,600	12.57	15.99

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880 were 1,729, which was at the rate of 1.30 per 1,000 of population or 96.43 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF ALABAMA.

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE IN THE STATE OF ALABAMA.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama :

SECTION 1. That no person, except those proposing to practice some irregular system of medicine, shall be permitted to practice medicine in any of its branches or departments as a profession and means of livelihood in this State, without having obtained a certificate of qualification from some authorized board of medical examiners as hereinafter provided.

2. That no person shall be permitted to practice any irregular system of medicine in any of its branches or departments as a profession or means of livelihood, in this State, without having obtained a diploma or certificate of qualification in anatomy, physiology, chemistry and the mechanism of labor from some authorized board of medical examiners, as hereinafter provided.

3. That the Board of Censors of the Medical Association of the State of Alabama, organized according to the constitution of the said Medical Association of the State of Alabama, which was adopted at its annual meeting at the city of Tuscaloosa, in March, 1883, and the boards of censors of the several county medical societies which are in affiliation with the said Medical Association of the State of Alabama, and organized in accordance with the provisions of the constitution just mentioned, be and are hereby constituted the authorized Boards of Medical Examiners referred to in the first section of this act.

4. That the standard of qualifications required of persons desiring to practice medicine in this State, together with the rules for the government of the authorized boards of medical examiners, shall be such as may be determined from time to time by the said Medical Association of the State of Alabama, in accordance with the provisions of its said constitution of 1873.

5. That every diploma or certificate of qualification authorizing any person to practice medicine in this State, which shall be issued by any authorized board of medical examiners, shall be presented to the probate judge of the county in which said person resides, who shall officially endorse the same, and seal it with the seal of the county, and who shall also cause a full and fair copy of the same to be made in a well-bound book to be kept for that purpose, and called the register of licensed practitioners of medicine, and for this service he shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar : Provided, that said Medical Association, nor any board of censors in affiliation with it, shall be allowed to charge any fee for any diploma or certificate of qualification which may be granted by it.

6. That any person practicing medicine in this State in violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof before any court having competent jurisdiction, shall be fined in the sum of not more than one hundred dollars for every such offense ; and if the fine so imposed be not immediately paid, said person shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than one year for every such offense,

7. That all persons who shall be legally engaged in the practice of medicine in any county of this State, before the organization of the board of medical examiners of said county, all persons who at any time have been legally engaged in the practice of medicine in this State, and who are now authorized to practice medicine in this State, shall be entitled to the certificate of the board of medical examiners, and to be inscribed in the register of licensed practitioners of medicine without examination as to qualification.

8. That the provisions of this act shall take effect in any county of this State whenever the board of medical examiners for said county shall have been organized, as hereinbefore provided, and the fact of such organization officially communicated to the probate judge of said county by the board of censors of the Medical Association of this State.

9. That none of the provisions of this act shall apply to females who now or may hereafter be engaged in the practice of midwifery : Provided, said females practice no other branch or department of medicine.

10. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be, and the same are, hereby repealed, and this act shall be in force from and after its passage.

ALASKA.

CAPITAL, SITKA.

POPULATION OF TERRITORY, 30,178.

(Census of 1880.)

White	392	Innuits	17,488
Creoles	1,683	Indians	8,655
Alcuts	1,960

Alaska was purchased from Russia by the United States, in 1867, for $7,200,000 in gold, and extends from the Diomede Islands in Behring Straits in N. latitude 66°, W. longitude 168° 50′, eastward along the shore of the Arctic ocean to W. longitude 143°, N. latitude 69° 30′, and from the Diomede Islands southward to N. latitude 50°, W. longitude 168°; thence eastward to the 143 meridian. It is a peninsula situated in the extreme northwestern portion of North America, and comprises an area of 577,390 square miles, or 369,529,600 acres.

The surface is broken and mountainous, and is traversed by the most northern range of the Rocky Mountains. The Yukon river, navigable for a distance of 1,000 miles, and which intersects the territory from east to west, disemboguing into the Behring Sea, between 64° and 65°, and the Coppermine, also navigable, are the principal rivers, the latter has its mouth near latitude 60°.

The mean annual temperature at Sitka is about 44° F. The coast is warmed by the Japan current, which in the Pacific is the counterpart of the Gulf stream in the Atlantic. The warm moist sea air meeting a cold current from the mountains causes frequent fogs and rains along the southern coast. The average rainfall is between 80 and 85 inches, the months of September and October being especially wet. The southern seaboard is fringed with dense forests of Sitka spruce, yellow cedar, fir, hemlock, larch, etc. Cereals do not ripen well owing to the constant moisture.

The wealth of the territory lies in its furs and fisheries. Seals, bears, deer, wolves and others wild animals abound, and cod and mackerel are very plentiful.

The Sitka Sound Hot Springs, 15 miles from the capital, have proven efficacious in cases of venereal disease and also in rheumatic and cutaneous affections. There is a Chalybeate spring half a mile from Sitka, a hot spring near Ilioulioulk Harbor, and many others in various portions of Alaska.

The Territory is still unorganized, but a district government was created by act of Congress, May 17, 1884. It consists of a governor and a district court (sitting at Sitka in May, and at Wrangell in November). The clerk of the court is ex-officio secretary and treasurer of the District of Alaska.

No reliable mortality statistics are obtainable.

ARIZONA.

CAPITAL, PRESCOTT.

POPULATION (Census of 1880) 40,440, (Assessors' Returns, 1883) 82,976.

Males	28,202	Native	24,391
Females	12,238	Foreign	16,049
White	35,160	Chinese	1,632
Colored	155	Indians	3,493

Arizona extends from 109° to 114°, 47′, 6½″, longitude west of Greenwich and from 31°, 19′, 24″ to 37°, north latitude, and is bounded on the north by Utah and Nevada, on the east by New Mexico, on the west by California and Nevada, and on the south by the Republic of Mexico. It comprises an area of 113,916 square miles, or 72,906,240 acres, or nearly three times the size of New York State.

The Territory was organized in 1863.

After a protracted and bloody struggle, the Apache has been conquered forever, and it is no idle statement that life and property are as safe in Arizona as in any of the Eastern States. The Rio Colorado which runs through the northwestern part and along the western border, is the principal river of the Territory. It is navigable for 600 miles, and with its tributaries, drains an immense area of country. The Gila and Salt rivers flow through Southern Arizona. The climate is salubrious and pleasant except in the lower sections near the Gila and Rio Colorado, where the summers are excessively hot. Rainfalls occur during the months of June, July, August and September, but numerous streams fed by never failing springs and melting snow, supply all the water that is needed for farming purposes. The mean annual temperature for the past 9 years has been $72\frac{3}{10}$° F.

The mines of Arizona may be called its bone and sinew, and the territory is one vast network of veins and ledges. Gold, silver and copper are found in their native state, and also in many rich combinations. Coal, salt, marble, antimony, tellurium and alabastine abound, and petroleum has been struck near the Apache coal fields.

Vast tracts of richly grassed lands are open to grazers.

There are neither medicinal springs nor medical institutions in the Territory.

Rate of Mortality in Arizona as computed from the U. S. census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1,000, White.	Rate per 1,000, Colored.
40,440	291	7.20	281	10	7.91	1.89

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 18, which was at the rate of 40 per 1,000 of population, or 61.85 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF ARIZONA.

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE IN THE TERRITORY OF ARIZONA.

SECTION 1. It shall not be lawful for any person to practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics in this Territory, unless such person shall have obtained a diploma, regularly issued by a medical college, properly and lawfully organized, and in good standing at the time of the issue of such diploma, or unless such persons shall have obtained a license from a board of medical examiners, legally existing at the time, and properly qualified to issue such licence under the laws of the State, Territory or country where such board of examiners then existed. Such diploma or license must state that such person is qualified in the branches of that medical profession named in said diploma or license; provided, however, that a diploma or license that has been or that may hereafter be granted for a moneyed consideration or other article of value alone; and provided, further, that no diploma or license regularly issued, as hereintofore stated, and which has been revoked or cancelled by the medical college from which it was issued, or by the act of the Legislature of any State or Territory within which the same was granted, shall not be considered a sufficient qualification under this act.

2. Every person engaged in the practice of medicine, surgery or obstetrics, shall register in the county recorder's office of the county where he is practicing or intends to practice, in a book to be kept by the county recorder, his name, residence and place of birth, together with a true and correct copy of his diploma or license, as required by section 1 of this act. The person so registering shall subscribe and verify by oath or affirmation, before a person duly qualified to administer oaths, that the copy so registered is a true and correct copy of the original diploma or license in his possession, and that he is the identical person named in the original diploma or license, and that he has attended at least one full course of lectures in the medical college from which such diploma or license was issued, which affidavit is to be reduced to writing, and annexed to the copy required to be registered under the provisions of this act. The county recorder is to receive a fee of five dollars for each and every registration under this act, to be paid by the person so registering.

3. Any person who has been in continuous practice of medicine, surgery or obstetrics in this Territory for five years previous to the passage of this act, is hereby authorized to pursue the same without compliance with the above sections.

4. The provisions of this act shall not apply to persons who shall prescribe for the sick, or practice obstetrics in any town, village or settlement in which there is no regularly educated and licensed physician practicing.

5. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

6. * * * * All acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

7. This act shall take effect and be in force on and after May 1, 1881.

ARKANSAS.

CAPITAL, LITTLE ROCK.

POPULATION OF STATE, 802,525.

(Census 1880).

Males	416,279	Native	792,175
Females	386,246	Foreign	10,350
Whites	591,531	Chinese	133
Colored	210,666	Indians	195

Arkansas extends from 33° N. latitude to 36°, 30′ N. latitude, and from 89°, 32′ W. longitude to 94°, 38′ W. longitude, and is bounded on the north by Missouri, on the west by the Indian Territory and Texas, on the south by Louisiana, and on the east by the Mississippi river, which separates it from Mississippi and Tennessee.

It was organized as a territory in 1812, and admitted as a State in 1836.

The principal rivers of Arkansas are the Mississippi, which washes the eastern shore for a distance of 400 miles, the Arkansas, which intersects the State from west to east, the St. Francis, the White and the Red rivers.

Pine forests cover a considerable part of Southern Arkansas; oak, maple and hickory predominate in the hilly portions of the State, and the large rivers are fringed with broad belts of cottonwood, cypress and gum trees.

The climate is mild, the mean annual temperature in the northern part being about 58°, in the central 61°, and in the southern 64°. The northwestern portion is the coldest, and the southeastern the hottest. The rainfall varies from 54 inches in the southeast to 40 in the northwest.

Cotton is the great staple of the State, but tobacco is also largely grown.

Arkansas is rich in minerals, zinc, iron, lead and copper abounding. Novaculite, or Akansas whitestone, is found in Hot Springs county, and is said to be the most valuable in the world. Marble, freestone and gypsum are abundant, as is also coal, both anthracite and bituminous.

The mineral springs of the State deserve a much more extended notice than is possible in the brief space allotted to this sketch. The most celebrated are the Hot Springs, situated in Garland county, which have gained a world-wide reputation. They are 66 in number, and discharge 500,000 gallons of water daily. Next in importance are the Eureka Springs, in Carroll county, which have long been famous for their curative properties. The well known Mountain Valley Springs are within 12 miles of Hot Springs, and the Thermal, Fairchild's, Potash Sulphur and Cluster Springs are in the same locality. Gillen's White Sulphur Spring is 3 miles from Hot Springs, and the Blood Springs are 50 miles distant. The Searcy Springs are fast becoming popular.

The following table shows increase in population for past 60 years:

1820	14,255	1860	435,450
1830	30,388	1870	484,471
1840	97,574	1880	802,525
1850	209,897

The educational advantages are very great and consist of the Arkansas Industrial University, at Fayetteville; Judsonia University, in White County; St. John's College and Little Rock Female College, both in the city of Little Rock, and Cane Hill College, at Boonsborough. There are besides many high schools, and a complete system of free schools. All religious denominations are here represented, and nearly every hamlet has one or more churches or church societies.

The census of manufacturers for 1880 shows the total number of establishments at that time to have been 1202; capital invested, $2,953,130; number of hands employed, 4,556; wages paid, $925,358; value of materials, $4,382,080; value of products, $6,756,159.

Rate of Mortality in Arkansas, as Computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored	Rate per 1,000 White.	Rate per 1,000 Colored.
802,525	14,812	18.46	11,307	3,505	19.11	16.61

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880, was 955, which was at the rate of 1.20 per 1,000 of population, or 64.47 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF ARKANSAS.

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY IN THE STATE OF ARKANSAS

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas:

SECTION 1. That hereafter no person shall practice medicine and surgery, or medicine or surgery, as a profession in this State, without first being registered as a physician or surgeon, in the office of the clerk of the county court of some county in this State.

2. Each county clerk in this State shall keep in his office a well bound book, in which he shall register the names of all such persons as shall be lawfully qualified, as hereinafter provided, and who shall apply for registration as physicians and surgeons, or physicians or surgeons, with the date of such registration.

3. That hereafter any person who may wish to practice as physician and surgeon, or either, in this State, shall be allowed to register as such, who shall file with the clerk of the county court of any county in this State a certificate of qualification signed by a majority of the county board of medical examiners of the county in which he or she offers to register: Provided, That no person shall be allowed to register as physician or surgeon until he or she shall have attained the age of twenty-one (21) years: Provided further, That any person living in a county in which no board is organized, may apply to a board of some other county, or to the State board.

4. That immediately after the passage of this act, the county judge of each county in this State shall appoint for his county a board of medical examiners, consisting of three persons, who shall be citizens of such county and learned in the sciences of medicine and surgery, of good moral character, and duly registered under this act, who shall hold their offices until the first term of such county court, in the year 1882, at which time, and every four years thereafter, said board shall again be filled by appointment as above provided; and should a vacancy occur in said board at any time, the same shall be filled by appointment made by the county judge.

5. That the members of said board shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, take the official oath prescribed by the constitution of this State. That at the first meeting of the members of such board, after they shall have been appointed, preparatory to the transaction of the business assigned them under this act, they shall organize by electing one of their members as president and another as secretary. The regular meetings of such board shall be held quarterly, at the court house of the proper county, on the first Mondays in January, April, July and October in each year, and when so assembled, said board shall faithfully and impartially examine all such persons as shall appear before them for such purpose, touching their qualifications to practice medicine and surgery, or either; and all such persons as shall satisfy such board of examiners, or a majority of them, that he or she is twenty-one (21) years of age, of good moral character, and duly qualified, in knowledge and capacity, to practice medicine and surgery, or either, shall receive from such board a certificate of qualification as physician and surgeon, or either physician or surgeon, as the case may be; which certificate shall entitle such person to registration under the provisions of sections two (2) and three (3) of this act: Provided always, That such physician or surgeon shall be registered in the same county in which he or she was examined, except as provided in section ten (10) of this act: Provided, That any person desiring to be examined at any other than the time of the regular quarterly meeting, shall notify the president of the board of such desire, whose duty it shall be to assemble the board as soon as practicable, and examine such applicant.

6. That the county clerk shall give to every person registered under this act a certificate of registration, over his signature and official seal, and such certificate shall authorize any such person to practice as a physician or surgeon, or both, as the case may be, in any county in this State. That the clerk shall receive, as his fee for all services required of him under this act, in each case, the sum of one and a half dollars ($1.50).

7. Any two members of said Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of all business, and each applicant for examination shall pay, in advance, to the Secretary, to be divided equally among the members of such board, the sum of six (6) dollars, which shall be their only compensation.

8. Be it further enacted: That all physicians and surgeons, who have been continuously engaged in a reputable practice in this State for a period of five (5) years next before the passage of this act, shall not be required to undergo the examination herein provided for, but shall, upon satisfactory proof, before the county clerk, of such continuous practice, and the payment of the fee allowed that officer, be duly recognized. Females who are now, or may hereafter, engage in the exclusive practice of midwifery, are exempted from the provisions of this act.

9. That any person who shall prescribe or administer medicine for, or who shall in any manner treat diseases or wounds for pay, shall be deemed physicians and surgeons under this act.

10, That immediately after the passage of this act, the Governor shall appoint a State Board of Medical Examiners, consisting of five members, learned in the sciences of medicine and surgery, and of good moral character, and duly registered, who shall organize in the manner prescribed for county boards by this act, and shall hold their meetings at such times and places as the President may direct, for the purpose of the re-examination of any person, at his or her request, who has been refused registration by any county board; and if, upon such re-examination, such person shall be found qualified to practice medicine or surgery, said State Board shall grant to him or her a certificate accordingly, which certificate shall entitle the person so receiving it to be registered as provided in this act, in any county in this State. Such applicant shall pay the State Board a fee of five dollars; Provided, That no person desiring to practice medicine under this act shall be excluded therefrom on account of any particular system or school of medicine that he may desire to practice.

11. Any person who shall hereafter engage in the practice of medicine and surgery, or either, in this State, without being registered under this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, in any court having jurisdiction under the laws of this State, shall be fined in any sum not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars. And each day said physician shall practice medicine, without being registered, as hereinbefore required, shall be deemed a separate offense.

12. That this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, for the purpose of the appointment and organization of the boards herein provided for; but no physician or surgeon shall be in violation of this act, if he or she shall comply with the provisions thereof at or before the regular meeting of the county board, in July of the year 1881.

Approved March 9, 1881.

CALIFORNIA.

CAPITAL, SACRAMENTO.

POPULATION OF STATE, 864,694.

Males	518,176	Native	571,820
Females	346,518	Foreign	292,874
White	767,181	Chinese	75,218
Colored	6,018	Indians	16,277

California, the second largest State in the Union, extends from 32° 34′ to 42° N latitude, and from 114° 8′ to 124° 24′ W longitude, and is bounded on the north by Oregon, on the east by Nevada and Arizona, on the south by Mexico, and on the west by the Pacific Ocean. It comprises an area of 188,981 square miles, or 120,947,840 acres. It is naturally divided into four distinct regions. 1. The Coast Ranges; 2. The Sierra Nevada; 3. The Central Valley; 4. The Southwestern Region. California has but two large rivers, the Sacramento and San Joaquin, which traverse the Great Central Valley in opposite directions and empty into Suisun Bay, and the Klamath and Salinas and numerous smaller streams drain the State. The climate of California varies considerably in different portions, the mean annual temperature in the north being below 50° F., while in the southeastern portion it exceeds 70° F. The mean annual temperature at San Francisco for a period of 11 years was 55.23, and at Fort Yuma for a corresponding period,

ABBREVIATIONS—*R., Regular; H., Homœopathic; Ecl., Eclectic; P. M., Physio-Medical; , No report received in answer to enquiry regarding graduation; ‡, Attended lectures but did not graduate; §, Holds certificate of Examining Board; ‖, Not a graduate; ¶, Claims to have graduated, but the records do not show that a diploma was granted to any one bearing the name; †, Legally authorized under the "years of practice" section of act.

74.77. In San Francisco rain falls freely during November and December, and the hottest months are September, October, August and July, in the order named.

The interior of the State, not being influenced by the sea, has a continental climate, and the greater the distance from the ocean the colder the nights and the warmer the days. The average annual rain fall increases from S to N, and in the Sierra Nevada with the altitude; in Fort Yuma it is but 4 inches; in San Diego 9.16; in Sacramento 19.56; in San Francisco 21.69; and in the Sierra, at an altitude of 5,000 feet, 45 inches and more.

California may well be called the Garden of the World, for, embracing as it does every kind of soil and climate, it yields all the products of the temperate and many of the semi-tropical and tropical regions. The Sierras and the coast mountains constitute the most prominent geographical and topographical features of California. The former inosculates with the coast ranges at its two extremities, the Tejon Pass in the south, and Mount Shasta in the north. In these localities the two systems are so linked that the distinction between them beeomes a geological and not a geographical one. Nearly every species of wild animal, from the grizzly to the opossum, may be found in the State, and all orders of birds common to the temperate zone are well represented. Reptiles are numerous, and the rivers and lakes swarm with members of the finny tribe, which in variety, size and quality, excel those of any other division of like extent. So much has been said and written of the great mineral resources of California as to render it unnecessary to enter into a detailed account, suffice it to say that the State still maintains its position at the head of the mineral producing countries of the world.

The great valleys of the Sacramento and San Joaquin are specially adapted to agriculture, the lands being fertile and productive, and the climate all that the most exacting farmer could desire.

The most popular mineral springs of the State are: Highland Springs, in Lake county, 6 miles from Lakeport; Adams Springs, in the same county; Allen Springs, in Colusa county; Bartlett Springs, in Lake county, specially beneficial in rheumatic and skin diseases of a syphilitic character; Harbin Springs, 20 miles from Calistoga; Napa Soda Springs, 7 miles east of Napa City; the water of these springs is pleasant to the taste and healthful. Other springs are, the Aetna, the Geysers, Gilroy Hot Springs, Pacific, Congress Springs (Alkaline), Paso Robles Hot Springs, etc., etc.

The educational advantages are exceptionally great, and religion is represented by churches of all denominations. The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments at that time to have been 5,885; capital invested, $61,243,784; number of hands employed, 43,799; wages paid, $21,070,585; value of materials, $72,607,709; value of products, $116,277,973. For many years California has ranked among the health resorts of the world, and invalids from all parts have flocked here, and after a few months' sojourn have gone on their way rejoicing over renewed health and strength.

There are 4 medical colleges in the State: The Cooper Medical College, San Francisco; the Medical Department University of California, formerly Toland Medical College, San Francisco; the California Medical College (eclectic), Oakland; and the Hahnemann (homeopathic), San Francisco. The following shows increase of population for past 40 years:

1850	92,597	1870	582,031
1860	379,994	1880	864,694

Rate of Mortality in California, as Computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1000, White.	Rate per 1000, Color'd.
864,694 ..	11,530	13.33	10,462	1,068	13.63	10.95

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 1,802, which was at the rate of 2 per 1000 of population, or 156.28 per 1000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF CALIFORNIA.

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

[The following sections of two acts to regulate the practice of medicine—the original act, approved April 3, 1876, ; the act of amendment approved April 1, 1878—are still in force.]

[SECTION 1—Amendatory Act.] Every person in this State practicing medicine or surgery in any of its departments, shall possess the qualifications required by this act. Every such person shall present his diploma to one of the boards of examiners herein named, together with the affidavit mentioned in this act. If the board shall find all the facts required to be stated in said affidavit to be true, the board of examiners shall issue its certificate to that effect, signed by all the members thereof, and sealed with the seal of the board, and such certificate shall be conclusive as to the rights of the person named therein, to practice medicine and surgery in any part of this State.

[2—Amendatory Act.] The Medical Society of the State of California, the Eclectic Medical Society of the State of California, and the California State Homœopathic Medical Society, corporations organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of this State, and no other corporation, society, persons or person, shall appoint annually a board of examiners, consisting of seven members, who shall hold their office for one year, and until their successors shall be chosen. The examiners so appointed shall go before a district or county judge and make oath that they are regular graduates,and that they will faithfully perform the duties of their office. Vacancies occurring in a board of examiners shall be filled by the society appointing it, by the selection of alternates or otherwise. The boards of examiners now organized or existing under and by virtue of their appointments by the aforesaid societies, shall continue to act as such boards until their successors are appointed at the next annual election.

[3—Original Act.] The board of examiners shall organize within three months after the passage of this act. They shall procure a seal, and shall receive through their secretary,applications for certificates and examinations. The president of each board shall have authority to administer oaths, and the board take testimony in all meetings relating to their duties. They shall issue certificates to all who furnish satisfactory proof of having received diplomas or licenses from legally chartered medical institutions in good standing. They shall prepare two forms of certificates, one for persons in possession of diplomas or licenses, the other for candidates examined by the board. They shall furnish to the county clerks of the several counties a list of all persons receiving certificates. In selecting places to hold their meetings, they shall, as far as is reasonable, accommodate applicants residing in different sections of the State, and due notice shall be published of all their meetings. Certificates shall be signed by all the members of the board granting them, and shall indicate the medical society to which the examining board is attached.

[3—Amendatory Act.] Said board of examiners shall examine diplomas as to their genuineness, and if the diploma shall be found genuine as represented, the secretary of the board of examiners shall receive a fee of five dollars from each graduate or licentiate, and no further charge shall be made to the applicant; but if it be found to be fraudulent, or not lawfully owned by the possessor, the board shall be entitled to charge and collect twenty dollars of the applicant presenting such diploma. The applicant shall accompany his diploma with an affidavit stating that he is the lawful possessor of the same; that he is the person therein named; that the diploma was procured in the regular course of medical instruction, and without fraud or misrepresentation of any kind; and that the medical institution granting the diploma had, at the time of the granting the same, a full corps of medical instructors, and was, at the said time, a legally incorporated institution, actually and in good faith engaged in the business of medical education, and in good standing as a medical institution, and that the applicant had complied with all the requirements of said institution. Such affidavit may be taken before any person authorized to administer oaths, and the same shall be attested under the hand and official seal of such officer, if he have a seal. In addition to such affidavit, the board of examiners may hear such further testimony as in their discretion they may deem proper to hear as to the verification of any such diploma, or as to the identity of the person named therein, or as to the manner in which any such diploma was procured. And if it should appear from such testimony that any fact stated in said affidavit is untrue, the application of such person for a certificate shall be rejected. None of said boards shall entertain an application which has been rejected by another of said boards, nor shall any rejected application be renewed until at least one year after the action of the board rejecting the same.

[4—Amendatory Act.] The boards of examiners must refuse certificates to individuals guilty of unprofessional conduct. But before any such refusal, the applicant must be cited, by a citation signed by the secretary of the board and sealed with its seal, to appear before the board at a time and place certain, for the purpose of being heard as to such unprofessional conduct. Said citation shall notify the applicant of the time and place where and when the matter of said unprofessional conduct shall be heard, the particular unprofessional conduct with which the applicant is charged, and that the applicant shall then and there appear in person and attended with such witnesses to testify on his behalf as he may desire, or default will be taken against him, and his application for a certificate refused. The attendance of witnesses at such hearing shall be compelled by subpœnas issued by the secretary of the board, under its seal; and said secretary shall in no case refuse to issue any such subpœna on a fee of fifty cents being paid him for each subpœna. Said citations and said subpœnas shall be served in accordance with existing provisions of law as to the service of citations and subpœnas generally. At such hearing witnesses shall be examined on the part of the board and on the part of the applicant as to the fact of the applicant having been guilty of the conduct set out in the citation; and either side may examine medical experts as to whether such conduct is unprofessional; and if it appears to the satisfaction of the board that the applicant is guilty of said unprofessional conduct, no certificste shall be issued to him. But no application shall be refused on the ground of unprofessional conduct unless the applicant has been guilty of unprofessional conduct within one year next preceding his application. If any holder of a certificate be guilty of unprofessional conduct, his certificate must be revoked by the board granting it; but no such revocation shall be valid without said holder being cited to appear and the same proceedings be had as is hereinbefore provided in this section in case of refusal to grant a certificate. Whenever a certificate is revoked, the secretary of the board revoking the same shall certify, under the seal of the board, to the county clerk of the county in which the person whose certificate has been revoked is at the time of said revocation practicing his profession, and said clerk shall thereupon write on the margin or across the face of his register of the certificate of such person the fact of such revocation, signing his name thereto, and shall file in his office said certificate of revocation. Each of said boards may, from time to time, adopt such rules as may be necessary to the orderly conduct of all the proceedings taken and had before it. It shall be the duty of the secretaries of the respective boards to notify the secretaries of all other boards provided for under this act, of all applicants to whom licenses may have been refused, together with the reasons of such refusal by such boards.

[10—Original Act.] In all cases of refusal or revocation of a certificate, the applicant may appeal to the body appointing the board.

[9—Amendatory Act.] Should either of the said boards issue a certificate to any person whose application for a certificate has been previously rejected by another of the said boards within one year after the rejection of said application, then, in such case, the certificate issued as aforesaid to said rejected applicant shall be null and void and of no effect.

[8—Amendatory Act.] Any person assuming to act as a member of a board of examiners, under this act, or under the act to which this act is supplemental and amendatory, and who shall sign or subscribe, or issue or cause to be issued, or seal or cause to be sealed, a certificate authorizing any person to practice medicine or surgery in this State, except the person so acting and doing being appointed by one of the societies mentioned in section two of this act, or be authorized so to do by a board of examiners appointed by one of the societies mentioned in section two of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than thirty days nor more than three hundred and sixty-five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

[5—Original Act.] All examinations of persons not graduates or licentiates shall be made directly by the board, and the certificates given by the boards shall authorize the possessor to practice medicine and surgery in the State of California; but no examination into the qualifications of persons not holding diplomas or licenses shall be made after the thirty-first day of December, eighteen hundred and seventy-six. After that date no certificates shall be granted by them, except to persons presenting diplomas or licenses from legally-chartered medical institutions in good standing.

(8—Original Act.] Candidates for examination shall pay a fee of five dollars, in advance, which shall be returned to him if a certificate be refused. The fees received by the board shall be paid into the treasury of the medical society by which the board shall have been appointed, and the expenses and compensation of the board shall be subject to arrangement with the society.

[9—Original Act.] Examinations may be in whole or in part in writing, and shall be of an elementary and practical character, but sufficiently strict to test the qualifications of the candidate as a practitioner.

[6—Original Act.] Every person holding a certificate from a board of examiners shall have it recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which he resides, and the record shall be endorsed thereon. Any person removing to another county to practice, shall procure an indorsement to that effect on the certificate from the county clerk, and shall record the certificate in like manner, in the county to which he removes, and the holder of the certificate shall pay to the county clerk the usual fees for making the record.

[7—Original Act.] The county clerk shall keep, in a book provided for the purpose, a complete list of the certificates recorded by him, with date of the issue and the name of the medical society represented by the board of examiners issuing them. If the certificate be based on a diploma or license, he shall record the name of the medical institution conferring it, and the date when conferred. The register of the county clerk shall be open to public inspection during business hours

[5—Amendatory Act.] Any person shall be regarded as practicing medicine within the meaning of this act who shall profess publicly to be a physician or who shall habitually prescribe for the sick, or who shall append to his name the letters "M. D." But nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit gratuitous services in case of emergency. And this act and the act to which this act is supplemental and amendatory shall not apply to lawfully commissioned surgeons of the United States army and navy practicing their profession within the limits of this State.

[7—Amendatory Act.] Any person practicing medicine or surgery in this State, without first having procured a certificate to so practice from one of the boards of examiners appointed by one of the societies mentioned in section two of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject to the penalties provided in section thirteen of the act to which this act is amendatory and supplemental; but no person who holds a certificate from one of such boards of examiners, or who holds a certificate heretofore granted by the board of examiners heretofore existing by virtue of appointment by the California State Medical Society of Homœopathic Practitioners, shall be compelled to procure a new certificate; and all powers and privileges of said boards of examiners under the act to which this act is supplemental and amendatory, are hereby transferred the boards of examiners created by this act.

[12—Original Act. 6—Amendatory Act.] Any itinerant vender who shall sell or offer for sale any drug, nostrum, ointment, or appliance of any kind intended for the treatment of disease or injury; or any person who shall, by writing or printing, or by any other method, publicly profess to cure or treat disease, injury or deformity by any medicine, drug or drugs, nostrum, manipulation, or other expedient, shall pay a license of one hundred dollars a month. Such license shall be collected as other licenses are.

[13—Original Act.] Any person practicing medicine or surgery in this State, without complying with the provisions of this act, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50), nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than thirty days nor more than three hundred and sixty-five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each and every offense; and any person filing or attempting to file, as his own, the diploma or certificate of another, or a forged affidavit of identification, shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction, shall be subject to such fine and imprisonment as are made and provided by the statutes of this State for the crime of forgery.

[Section 11 of the original act permitted students to "prescribe under the supervision of preceptors;" but this permission is rescinded by the amendatory act.]

COLORADO.

CAPITAL, DENVER.

POPULATION OF STATE, 243,910.

(Census of 1885.)

POPULATION, 1880, 194,327.

Males	129,131	Native	154,537
Females	65,196	Foreign	39,790
White	191,126	Chinese	612
Colored	2,435	Indians	154

Colorado extends from 37° to 41½° north latitude, and from 102° to 109° west longitude, and is bounded on the north by Wyoming and Nebraska, on the east by Nebraska and Kansas, on the south by New Mexico and the Indian Territory, and on the west by Utah. It is the third largest State in the Union, ranking after Texas and California, and comprising an area 104,500 square miles or 66,860,000 acres. The main range of the Rocky mountains runs through the centre of the State and forms the "Continental Divide." From one side the streams flow into the Gulf of Mexico, and from the other into the Pacific ocean.

The principal rivers are the South Platte and Arkansas, and these with their tributaries suffice to irrigate all the farm lands in the great agricultural counties of the State. The streams are fringed by cottonwood, box elder and willow trees, and in the foot hills, and on the mountains, pure spruce and cedar cover vast areas.

Rain falls from May to July and the other months are dry.

The mean annual temperature is about 48°.

Rich native grasses and an abundant supply of pure cold water render the State peculiarly attractive to stock raisers and dairy farmers. Nearly every variety of mineral and ore is found in Colorado, and in the production of silver it stands at the head of all the States in the Union. Iron and coal abound, as do also gold, lead, copper, zinc, mercury, granite, marbles, sandstone, fire and pottery clay, gypsum and lithographic stone. The climate is proverbially healthful, the atmosphere is dry, free from malarial poisons and highly electric, acting as an invigorating draught. As regards school and church facilities, in proportion to its population, Colorado is unsurpassed.

The following table shows the increase in population for the past 35 years:

1860	34,277	1880	195,234
1870	99,864	1885	243,910

The census of manufactories for 1880 shows the number of establishments to have been 599; capital invested, $4,311,714; number of hands employed, 5,074; total amount paid in wages, $2,314,427; value of materials, $8,777,262; value of products, $14,260,159.

The following is a list of the principal mineral springs in the State, arranged in alphabetical order: Canon City Springs, in Fremont county; Carlisle Springs, Pueblo county; Chalk Creek Hot Springs (thermal), Chaffee county; Clark Magnetic Mineral Springs, Pueblo county; Idaho Hot Soda Springs, Clear Creek county; Liberty Hot Springs, Manitou Spring, El Paso county; Middle Park Hot Springs (thermal), Grand county; Pagosa Springs, Conejos county; Parnassus Springs, Pueblo county; Porter Springs, Arapahoe county; Rocky Mountain Springs, Boulder county; South Park Spring, Park county, and Springdale Seltzer Springs, Boulder county.

There are two medical colleges in the State—the Medical Department of the University of Denver, in Denver, and the Medical Department University of Colorado, in Boulder.

Rate of Mortality in Colorado as computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1,000 White.	Rate per 1,000 Colored.
194,327	2,547	13.11	2,521	26	13.19	8.12

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 210, which was at the rate of 1.00 per 1,000 of population or 82.45 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF COLORADO.

AN ACT TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC HEALTH AND REGULATE THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE IN THE STATE OF COLORADO.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. That a board is hereby established which shall be known under the name and style of the State Board of Medical Examiners, to be composed of nine practicing physicians of known ability and integrity, who are graduates of medical schools of undoubted respectability, giving each of the three schools of medicine (known as the regular, homœopathic and eclectic schools) a representation as follows, to wit: six physicians of the regular, two of the homœopathic, and one of the eclectic school or system of medicine.

2. The Governor of this State shall, as soon as practicable after this act shall have become a law, appoint a State Board of Medical Examiners, as provided in section one of this act, and the members first appointed shall be so designated by the Governor that the term of office of three shall expire in two years from the date of appointment, the term of office of three shall expire in four years from the date of appointment, and the term of office of three shall expire in six years from the date of appointment; thereafter, the Governor shall biennially appoint three members, possessing qualifications as specified in section one, to serve for the term of six years, and he shall also fill all vacancies that may occur, as soon as practicable: Provided, that in making biennial appointments or filling vacancies, the representation of the medical schools in the board shall not be changed from the original basis, as in section one of this act.

3. The board of medical examiners shall, as soon after their appointment as practicable, organize by the election of one of their members as president, one as secretary and one as treasurer, and adopt such rules as are necessary for their guidance in the performance of the duties assigned them, and also adopt a seal, which shall be affixed to all certificates issued by them to practitioners of medicine.

4. That every person practicing medicine in any of its departments, shall possess the qualifications required by this act. If a graduate in medicine, he shall present his diploma to the State Board of Medical Examiners for verification, or furnish other evidence conclusive of his being a graduate of a legally chartered medical school in good standing; the State Board of Medical Examiners shall issue its certificate to that effect, signed by a majority of the members thereof, and such diploma or evidence shall be conclusive as to the right of the lawful holder of the same to practice medicine in this State. If not a graduate of a legally chartered medical institution in good standing, the person practicing, or wishing to practice medicine in this State, shall present himself before said board of medical examiners and submit himself to such examination as defined in section seven of this act, and if the examination be satisfactory to the examiners, the said board of medical examiners shall issue its certificate in accordance with the facts, and the lawful holder of such certificate shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges herein mentioned. All persons who have made the practice of medicine and surgery their profession or business continuously, for the period of ten (10) years, within this State, and can furnish satisfactory evidence thereof to the State Board of Medical Examiners, shall receive from said board a license to continue practice in the State of Colorado.

5. The State Board of Medical Examiners, within ninety (90) days after the passage of this act, shall receive, through its president, applications for certificates and examinations. The president of said board of medical examiners shall have the authority to administer oaths, and the said board of medical examiners to take testimony in all matters relating to its duties. It shall issue certificates to all who furnish satisfactory proofs of having received diplomas from some legally chartered medical institution in good standing. It shall prepare two (2) forms of certificates—one for persons in possession of diplomas, the other for candidates examined by its members. It shall furnish to the county clerks of the several counties a list of all persons receiving certificates. Certificates shall be signed by a majority of the members of the board of medical examiners granting them.

6. There shall be paid to the treasurer of the State Board of Medical Examiners a fee of five dollars ($5) for each certificate issued to graduates or practitioners of ten (10) years' standing, and no further charges shall be made to the applicant. Candidates for examination shall pay a fee of ten dollars ($10) in advance.

7. All examinations of persons not graduates shall be made directly by the State Board of Medical Examiners. Examinations may be in whole, or part, in writing, and the subjects of examination shall be as follows: Anatomy, physiology, chemistry, pathology, surgery, obstetrics, and practice of medicine (exclusive of materia medica and therapeutics).

8. Every person holding a certificate from the State Board of Medical Examiners shall have it recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which he resides, and the record shall be endorsed thereon. Any person removing to another county to practice shall procure an endorsement to that effect on the certificate, from the county clerk, and shall record the certificate in like manner in the county to which he removes, and the holder of the certificate shall pay to the county clerk a fee of one dollar ($1) for making the record.

9. The county clerk shall keep, in a book provided for the purpose, a complete list of the certificates recorded by him. If the certificate be based on a diploma, he shall record the name of the medical institution conferring it and the date when conferred. This register shall be open to public inspection in business hours.

10. The State Board of Medical Examiners may refuse certificates to individuals who have been convicted of conduct of a criminal nature, and they may revoke certificates for like causes.

11. Any person shall be regarded as practicing medicine within the meaning of this act who shall profess publicly to be a physician and prescriber for the sick, or shall attach to his name the title "M. D." or "Surgeon," or "Doctor," in a medical sense. But nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit gratuitous services in cases of emergency.

12. Any person practicing medicine or surgery in any of their departments, in this State, without complying with the provisions of this act, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50), nor more than three hundred dollars ($300), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten (10) nor more than thirty (30) days, or by fine and imprisonment, for each and every offense; and any person filing, or attempting to file, as his own, the diploma or certificate of another, or who shall give false or forged evidence of any kind, shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be subject to such fine and imprisonment as are made and provided by the statutes of this State for the crime of forgery.

13. All fees received by the treasurer of said board of examiners, and all fines collected by any officer of the law, under this act, shall be paid into the State treasury; and all necessary expenses of the board shall be paid for out of the funds of the State treasury not otherwise appropriated; but no fee shall be required or accepted by any member of the board for services.

14. The State Board of Medical Examiners shall meet as a board of medical examiners in the city of Denver, on the first Tuesday of January, July and October of each year, and at such other times and places as may be found necessary for the performance of their duties.

15. Justices of the peace and all courts of record in the State of Colorado shall have full jurisdiction over and power to enforce the provisions of this act.

CONNECTICUT.

CAPITAL, HARTFORD.

POPULATION OF STATE, 662,700.

(Census of 1880).

Males	305,782	Native	492,708
Females	316,918	Foreign	129,992
Whites	610,769	Chinese	129
Colored	11,547	Indians	255

Connecticut, one of the original 13 states, extends from 41° to 42° 2¾′ N latitude, and from 70° 55′ to 73° 50′ W longitude, and is bounded on the north by Massachusetts, on the east by Rhode Island, on the west by New York, and on the south by Long Island Sound. It comprises an area of 4,730 square miles, or 3,027,200 acres. The principal rivers are the Connecticut, the Thames, Housatonic, Naugatuck, Shepaug, Noraton, Norwalk and Mystic and numerous miniature lakes are distributed over its surface.

The climate is marked by great extremes and sudden changes; the winters are cold, the summers very warm. The district bordering on the sea is the hottest, and the northwestern portion the coldest. The mean anuual temperature, as observed at the capital, is about 50° and the rainfall varies from 41 to 47 inches, according to the place of observation.

The principal minerals are copper, cobalt, barytes, hydraulic lime, bismuth, valuable building stone, marble, nickle and feldspar.

The higher portions are well adapted to agriculture, which forms an important item in the industries of the State.

No report received in answer to enquiry regarding graduation; ‡, Attended lectures but did not graduate; §, Holds certificate of Examining Board; ‖, Not a graduate; ¶, Claims to have graduated, but the records do not show that a diploma was granted to any one bearing the name; †, Legally authorized under the "years of practice" section of act.*

As a manufacturing centre Connecticut takes a very high place. Among the States the census for 1880 shows the number of establishments at that time to have been 4,488; capital invested, $120,480,275; number of hands employed, 112,915; total wages paid during the year, $43,501,518; value of materials, $102,769,341; value of products, $185,680,211.

The following table shows the increase in the population for the past 80 years:

1800.....251,002	1850.....370,792
1810.....261,942	1860.....460.187
1820.....275,148	1870.....537,454
1830.....297,675	1880.....662,700
1840.....309,978

There are three Colleges in the State—Yale College at New Haven, Trinity College at Hartford (Episcopal), and the Wesleyan University at Middletown. Besides these there are many professional schools, and there is a very complete system of public schools. The religious facilities are all that could be desired.

The medical department of Yale College is the only medical institution in the State; it is located in New Haven.

The Stafford Springs, in Tolland County, 20 miles north of Willimantic, are the most celebrated Chalybeate Springs in New England.

Connecticut has no lofty mountains, but it includes the southern extremities of the two great New England ranges, the Green and the White Mountains. The State possesses many excellent harbors on the Long Island Sound.

Rate of Mortality in Connecticut, as Computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored	Rate per 1,000 White.	Rate per 1,000 Colored.
622,700	9,179	14.74	8,928	251	14.61	21.03

The number of deaths from consumption during 1880, was 1,389, which was at the rate of 2.20 per 1,000 of population, or 151.32 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF CONNECTICUT.

AN ACT TO PREVENT IRREGULAR MEDICAL PRACTICE.

SECTION 1. Any itinerant person, not an inhabitant of this State, who shall, by circular, hand bill or any other mode of advertisement, profess to treat, and shall, in any town in this State, treat disease or injury by any drug, nostrum, manipulation or other expedient, shall be fined twenty-five dollars for each day that he shall exercise his profession without procuring a license therefor.

2. Selectmen in towns and the chief officer of police in cities, may issue such licenses upon payment to the town or city treasurer by such itinerant person of the sum of twenty dollars for each day for which his license may be granted. The license shall distinctly state the number of days which it shall be in force, and may be renewed at its expiration for any further time, upon the same terms. Such selectmen and chief officer of police shall record such licenses in books kept by them for that purpose, which shall be open to public inspection.

3. This act shall not apply to commissioned surgeons in the army or navy of the United States, to any persons rendering gratuitous services in cases of emergency, nor to any physician or surgeon coming into this State from another State to consult in any particular case.

4. Prosecutions for violation of this act may be heard and determined by police courts, where established, and by justices of the peace in towns in which such courts have no criminal jurisdiction.

Approved April 12, 1881.

DAKOTA.

CAPITAL, BISMARCK.

POPULATION OF TERRITORY, 415,263.

(Census of 1885.)

POPULATION in 1880, 135,177.

Males	82,296	Native	83,382
Females	52,881	Foreign	51,795
White	133,147	Chinese	238
Colored	401	Indians	1,391

Dakota extends from 43° to 49° N. latitude, and from 96° 22′ 30″ to 104 W. longitude, and is bounded on the north by the British possessions, on the east by Minnesota and Iowa, on the south by Nebraska, and on the west by Wyoming and Montana. It comprises an area of 150,932 square miles, or 96,596,480 acres. The principal rivers are the Missouri, which intersects the Territory from northwest to southeast; the Red River of the North, Little Missouri, Big Cheyenne, Mouse, White, Pembina and Grand. The climate is more mild and genial than the latitude would seem to warrant, and the winters, though cold, are dry, and the air is bracing and invigorating. The average annual rainfall is about 20 inches, and as it mostly occurs during the warm season it is favorable to vegetation. Dakota is mainly a prairie region, but the rivers are fringed with groves of cottonwood, ash, oak, elm and maple. The wheat fields of Northern Dakota have made it famous all over the civilized world. In the central and southern portion of the Territory more attention is given to stock raising and general farming. Rich mineral deposits are found in the southwestern portion, known as the Black Hills. Gold, silver, lead, salt, mica, nickle, tin, etc., abound, but the gold mines are the only ones developed. The hills are covered with forests of pine. Originally sought on account of its mineral wealth, it has proved to be, contrary to expectation, a remarkably fine agricultural and grazing country.

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments to have been 251; capital invested, $771,428; number of hands employed, 868; total wages paid during year, $339,375; value of materials, $1,523,761; value of products, $2,373,970.

The following table shows increase in population for the past 15 years:

1870	14,181	1885	415,263
1880	135,177

The educational and religious facilities are all that could be desired.

There are no mineral springs nor any medical institutions in Dakota.

Rate of Mortality in Dakota, as computed from the U. S. census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1,000, White.	Rate per 1,000, Colored.
135,177	1,304	9.65	1,249	55	9.37	27.09

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 116, which was at the rate of .80 per 1,000 of population, or 88.95 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF DAKOTA.

A law designed to regulate the practice of medicine and surgery passed the Territorial Legislature at the session of 1882, but was vetoed by the Governor. A similar law was introduced at the 1883 session, and was referred to a committee, the chairman of which was a member of the medical profession, but who refused to bring the measure before the legislative body.

DELAWARE.

CAPITAL, DOVER.

POPULATION OF STATE, 146,608.

(Census 1880).

Males	74,108	Native	137,140
Females	72,500	Foreign	9,468
White	120,160	Chinese	11
Colored	26,442	Indians	5

Delaware is bounded on the north by Pennsylvania, on the west and south by Maryland and on the east by the Pacific ocean and the Delaware river and bay, and extends from 38° 28′ to 39° 50′ N. latitude. It is one of the 13 original states and comprises an area of 2,120 square miles, or 1,356,800 acres. The Delaware river, which washes the eastern border, is the only navigable river in the State, the other rivers being the Indian and Nanticoke. The climate is mild, the mean annual temperature being about 53°. The soil in the interior is light and easily cultivated, and peach growing is a prominent industry. The surface in the north is diversified with hill and dale, but in the southern portion it is almost a dead level.

Manufacturing engages the attention of a considerable portion of the population, and is carried on chiefly in Wilmington and vicinity. The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments at that time to have been 746; capital invested, $15,655,822; number of hands employed, 12,638; total wages paid during year, $4,267,349; value of materials, $12,828,461; value of products, $20,514,438. The maritime commerce of Delaware is not extensive despite the fact that it borders on navigable waters.

The state is well provided with educational establishments, having three colleges, Delaware College, at Newark; St. Mary's, at Wilmington; and Brandywine College, at Brandywine, and a very complete system of public schools. All religious denominations are represented. The following table shows increase in population since 1860:

1860	112,216	1880	146,608
1870	125,015

There are neither Medical Institutions, nor Medicinal Springs in the State.

Rate of Mortality in Delaware, as Computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1000, White.	Rate per 1000, Color'd.
416,608	2,212	15.09	1,737	475	14.45	17.95

The number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 357, which was at the rate of 2.40 per 1000 of population, or 161.39 per 1000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF DELAWARE.

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE IN THE STATE OF DELAWARE.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Delaware in General Assembly met:

SECTION 1. That it shall not be lawful for any person to practice medicine or surgery in this State who has not graduated with the degree of Doctor of Medicine and received a diploma from some medical college authorized to grant diplomas: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to persons who have been eight years in continuous practice in this State or who are now, or may hereafter be authorized by the board of medical examiners of this State, as prescribed in Chap. 37, Sec. 3 of the Revised Code of the State of Delaware. (The Medical Board of Examiners shall be composed of as many fellows as the Society shall deem proper. The said society shall appoint its own president and secretary and shall have power to grant licenses under their signatures for the practice of medicine and surgery in this State, and they are hereby required to grant such licenses to any person applying therefor who shall produce a diploma from a respectable medical college, or shall upon full and impartial examination be found qualified for such practice).

2. That any person who shall practice or attempt to practice medicine or surgery, or shall prescribe for any sick person or persons or perform any surgical operation for fee or reward, in violation of Sec. 1 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be fined in a sum of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each and every offense, at the discretion of the court, one-half of said fine to be for the use of the informer, and the other half for the use of The State Board of Health.

3. Any person who shall attempt to practice medicine or surgery by opening a transient office within this State, or who shall by hand bills or other form of written or printed matter or advertisement assign such transient office or place to meet persons seeking medical or surgical advice or prescription, shall, before being allowed to practice as aforesaid, appear, before the clerk of the peace of any of the counties of this State and furnish to him satisfactory evidence that the provisions of Sec. 1 of this act have been complied with; the said clerk of the peace shall thereupon issue to the person so applying a license to practice medicine and surgery in any of the counties of this State, provided, that the person so applying shall pay or cause to be paid to the said clerk of the peace as a license fee the sum of two hundred dollars per annum for said privilege.

4. The provisions of this act shall not apply to physicians who are regular practitioners of any other State, coming into this State, in consultation.

5. That within ninety days after the passage of this act every physician engaged in the practice of medicine or surgery in this State, shall register with the clerk of the peace of the county in which he resides, his name, date of graduation, and the college from which he was graduated; and make oath or affirmation that the diploma or certificate of his qualification to practice, which he is hereby required to exhibit to the clerk of the peace, is a bona fide diploma or certificate, and conferred upon him by the institution named therein; or that he has been a practitioner of medicine or surgery for eight years or more. Any person hereafter engaging in the practice of medicine or surgery in this State shall be required to register as above. Any one failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars, to be collected by the clerk of the peace before any justice of the county, in the name of the State of Deleware, and all sums collected shall be appropriated as follows: One-half to the clerk of the peace, and one-half to be paid by him to the county treasurer for county purposes.

6. That all acts or parts of of acts inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

Passed April 19, 1883.

MEDICAL LAWS OF DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

AN ACT TO REVISE, WITH AMENDMENTS, AN ACT TO INCORPORATE THE MEDICAL SOCIETY OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

SECTION 1. That Frederick May, M. D., Alexander McWilliams, M. D., and twenty others, and such other persons as they may from time to time elect, and their successors, are hereby declared to be a community, corporation and body politic, forever, or until Congress shall by law direct this charter to cease and determine, by and under the name and title of the Medical Society of the District of Columbia; and by and under the same name and title they shall be able and capable in law to purchase, take, have, and enjoy, to them and their successors, in fee or for lease, estate or estates, any land, tenements, rents, annuities, chattels, bank stock, registered debts, or other public securities within the District, by the gift, bargain, sale or demise, of any person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, capable to make the same, and the same, at their pleasure, to alien, sell, transfer, or lease and apply, to such purposes as they may adjudge most conducive to the promoting and disseminating medical and surgical knowledge, and for no other purpose whatever: Provided, nevertheless, that the said society or body politic shall not, at any one time, hold or possess property, real, personal, or mixed, exceeding in total value the sum of six thousand dollars per annum.

2. That the members of the said society above designated shall hold, in the city of Washington, two stated meetings in every year, viz: on the first Mondays in January and July; the officers of the society to consist of a president, two vice-presidents, one corresponding secretary, one recording secretary, one treasurer and one librarian, who shall be appointed on the first Monday in July, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-eight, and on the annual meeting in January forever thereafter, and who shall hold their offices for one year, and until others are chosen in their stead (not less than seven members being present at such meeting); and the society may make a common seal and may elect into their body such medical and chirurgical practitioners, within the District of Columbia, as they may deem qualified to become members of the Society, it being understood that the officers of the society now elected are to remain in office until the next election after the passage of this act.

3. That it shall and may be lawful for the said medical society, or any members of them attending (not less than seven) to elect by ballot five persons residents of the District of Columbia, whose duty it shall be to grant licenses to such medical and chirurgical gentlemen as they may, upon a full examination, judge qualified to practice the medical and chirurgical arts, or as may produce a diploma from some respectable medical college or society, each person so obtaining a certificate to pay a sum not exceeding ten dollars, to be fixed on or ascertained by the society.

4. That any three of the examiners shall constitute a board for examining such candidates as may apply, and shall subscribe their names to each certificate by them granted, which certificate shall also be countersigned by the president of the society, and have the seal of the society affixed thereto by the secretary, upon paying into the hands of the treasurer the sum of money to be ascertained as above by the society; and any one of the said examiners may grant a license to practice until a board in conformity to this act can be held: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall authorize the said corporation in anywise to regulate the practice of medical or chirurgical attendance on such persons as may need those services, nor to establish or fix a tariff of charges or fees for medical attendance or advice.

5. That after the appointment of the aforesaid medical board, no person not heretofore a practitioner of medicine or surgery within the District of Columbia, shall be allowed to practice within the said District, in either of said branches, without first having obtained a license, testified as by this law directed, or the production of a diploma from a respectable medical college or a board of examiners established by law: Provided, that the professors in such college, or the examiners in such board, be men regularly instructed in medicine and surgery, and the collateral branches of medical education, anatomy, chemistry, under the penalty of fifty dollars for each offense, to be recovered in the county court, where he may reside, by bill of presentment and indictment, one-half for the use of the society, and the other for that of the informer.

6. That every person who, upon application, shall be elected a member of the medical society, shall pay a sum not exceeding ten dollars, to be ascertained by the society.

7. That the medical society be, and they are hereby, empowered from time to time to make such by-laws, rules and regulations as they may find requisite, which by-laws, rules and regulations shall, in their application and operation, be exclusively confined to said society, as a society or body corporate, and not to its members individually, when not acting in a corporate character; to break or alter their common seal; to fix the times and places for the meetings of the boards of examiners; filling up vacancies in the medical board; and to do and perform such other things as may be requisite for carrying this act into execution, and which may not be repugnant to the Constitution and laws of the United States: Provided, always, that it shall and may be lawful for any person, resident as aforesaid, and not prohibited as aforesaid, when specially sent for, to come into any part of this District, and administer or prescribe medicine, or perform any operation for the relief of such, to whose assistance he may be sent for; And provided also, that nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to prevent any person, living within or without said District, from administering medicine or performing any surgical operation, with the consent of the person or the attendants of the person to whom such medicine is administered, or upon whom such surgical operation is performed, without fee or reward; nor to prevent the giving advice or assistance to the sick or afflicted, upon charity and kindness; nor to prevent the receipt of reward for the same, if voluntarily tendered or made; nor to extend to midwifery by females; and any person so administering medicine or performing any surgical operation, not authorized to practice physic and surgery according to the provisions of this act, shall be prohibited from collecting any fee or reward for the same by any process at law: And be it further provided, That no person shall be admitted to an examination until he shall produce satisfactory evidence that he has studied physic and surgery three years, including one full course of medical lectures, as usually taught at medical schools, or four years without such a course of lectures.

8. That Congress may at any time alter, amend or annul this act of incorporation of said society at pleasure.

Approved July 7, 1838.

FLORIDA.

CAPITAL, TALLAHASSEE.

POPULATION OF STATE 269,493.

(Census 1880).

POPULATION, 1885, 342,617.

Increase per cent, 27.13.

Males	136,444	Native	259,584
Females	133,049	Foreign	9,909
White	142,605	Chinese	18
Colored	126,690	Indians	180

Florida is bounded on the north by Alabama and Georgia, east by the Atlantic Ocean, and south and west by the Gulf of Mexico and Alabama. It includes the Peninsula of Florida, and comprises an area of 59,268 square miles, or 37,931,520 acres, of which 46,000 square miles are embraced in the peninsula which has a uniform width of 100 miles, and extends from 25° to 30° N latitude. The upper portion extends along the Gulf of Mexico to the river Perdido, a distance of 350 miles from the Atlantic coast line. The principal rivers are the St. Johns, Hillsborough, Withlacooche, Suwannee and the Apalachicola. Numerous lakes and ponds dot the surface of the peninsula. The climate is almost tropical, the average summer temperature being 80°, the winter varying from 65° to 70°, according to location.

The average annual rainfall is 55 inches.

The vegetation is varied and forests of low saw palmetto, the cabbage palm, the mangrove, red pine, hickory, white oak and gum trees, and groves of wild orange trees occur in different portions of the State. Deer, bears and panthers abound, also many orders of birds. The hammocks or river bottoms are extremely fertile, and indian corn and cotton are the staples. Oranges, lemons, limes, pine apples, olives and grapes flourish luxuriantly.

The following table shows increase in population for last 45 years:

1840	54,477	1870	187,748
1850	87,455	1880	269,493
1860	140,424	1885	342,617

The educational and religious facilities meet all the wants of the people.

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments at that time to have been 426. Capital invested, $3,210,680; number of hands employed, 5,540; total wages paid, $1,270,875; value of materials, $3,040,119; value of products, $5,546,448.

The Medical Department of Florida University (Tallahassee College of Medicine and Surgery), is the only medical institution in the State. Florida is famous for the number, size and variety of its springs. The following is a list of the most popular: Crystal River Springs, Hernando county; Greeley Springs, Duval county; Green Cove Springs (Sulphur), Clay county; Hampton Springs, Taylor county; Mount Royal Springs, Volusia county; Orange Springs, Marion county; Silver Spring, Marion county; Suwannee Springs, Suwannee county; Suwannee White Sulphur Springs, Hamilton county; Tarpon Springs, Hillsboro county; and White Sulphur Springs, Hamilton county.

Rate of Mortality in Florida, as computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1000, White.	Rate per 1000, Colored.
269,493	3,159.	11.72	1,718.	1,441.	12.04	11.34

The number of deaths from consumption during 1880, was 263, which was at the rate of .90 per 1000 of population, or 83.25 per 1000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF FLORIDA.

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE IN THE STATE OF FLORIDA.

The People of the State of Florida, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There shall be appointed by the Governor of this State six boards of medical examiners, consisting of not less than three nor more than five practitioners of medicine, of acknowledged skill and experience, and of five years' practice in this State, said boards to be located respectively at Tallahassee, Jacksonville, Pensacola, Key West, Ocala and Tampa, whose duty it shall be to carefully examine any and all persons not graduates of medicine, who have not heretofore practiced medicine in this State, who may hereafter propose to practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics in this State, and, if found competent to practice the same, said boards shall issue a certificate to that purport to such person, which certificate shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of each county where the person receiving it may practice.

2. The examination by the boards thus appointed shall include the branches of anatomy, operative and minor surgery, obstetrics, diseases of women and children, and the general laws of health.

3. The said board of medical examiners shall be allowed to charge and receive the sum of five dollars for each person so examined, to be paid upon receipt of certificate of competency by the party examined.

*No reply received in answer to enquiry requesting information.

4. That from and after the passage and approval of this act, any person who shall commence the practice of medicine, surgery or obstetrics in this State without having first obtained such certificate and recorded the same, as provided for in section 1 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine not exceeding two hundred dollars nor less than fifty dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court; provided, that the provisions of this act shall not be construed as applying to physicians or surgeons temporarily in the State when sent for to perform surgical operations or for consultation, or to women commonly known and designated as "midwives;" provided, further, that this act shall not apply to physicians now in this State.

5. Said board may adopt such rules and regulations as to examinations and certificates as they may deem proper, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this State.

6. All laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved March 7, 1881.

The 4th subsection of section 11, General Revenue Laws, provides that lawyers, doctors, dentists, druggists and photographers shall pay, for license tax, ten dollars ($10) annually.

GEORGIA.

CAPITAL, ATLANTA.

POPULATION OF STATE, 1,542,180.

(Census of 1880.)

Males	762,981	Native	1,531,616
Females	779,199	Foreign	10,564
White	816,906	Chinese	17
Colored	725,133	Indians	124

Georgia extends from 30° 21′ 40″ to 35° N. latitude, and from 80° 52′ to 85° 35′ 38″ W. longitude, and is bounded on the north by Tennessee and North Carolina,

The postoffice address is shown in Display Type, the name of county in which it is located immediately follows, and then the population of the place. The names of Physicians appear under the postoffice name, the first number (the key to which will be found on pages 101 to 120) indicates the college of graduation, and the last number the year in which diploma was granted.

on the east by South Carolina and the Atlantic Ocean, on the south by Florida, and on the west by Florida and Alabama. It was one of the original 13 States, and comprises an area of 58,000 square miles or 37,120,000 acres. The Blue Ridge and Alleghany Mountains traverse the northwestern portion of the State, and from them there is a gradual slope to the southeast, where is found the great Okeefinokee Swamp. The principal rivers are the Savannah, Altamaha, Ogeechee, Flint and Chattahoochee, the two last uniting from the Apalachicola of Florida. Forests of live oak, southern pine, cedar, cypress, magnolia and laurel are numerous, and occupy vast areas. The difference between the climate in Northern and Southern Georgia is very marked, the summers in the former region being invigorating and delightful, while in the latter the heat is often very oppressive. At Atlanta the mean annual temperature is 58.36 and at Savannah 67°.

Valuable deposits of the best quality of iron ore are found in various portions of the State. Copper and gold also occur. Agriculture is the most important branch of industry, and corn and cotton are the staples.

The following table shows the increase in population for the past half century:

1830	516,823	1860	1,057,286
1840	691,392	1870	1,184,109
1850	906,185	1880	1,542,180

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments at that time to have been 3,593; capital invested, $20,672,410; number of hands employed, 24,875; total wages paid during the year, $5,252,952; value of materials, $24,010,239; value of products, $36,447,448.

The direct foreign commerce of Georgia is inconsiderable, but its domestic commerce increases steadily.

The State has three universities, numerous colleges and academies, and an excellent public school system. The religious facilities, in proportion to population, equal those of any State in the Union.

The medical institutions of Georgia are: The Medical College of Georgia, Augusta; the Atlanta Medical College, Atlanta; the Georgia Eclectic Medical College, Atlanta, and the Southern Medical College, Atlanta.

The following is a list of the more popular mineral springs in the State: Bethesda Springs, Lumpkin Co.; Catoosa Springs (chalybeate), Catoosa Co.; Madison Springs (chalybeate), Madison Co.; Indian Spring, Butts Co.; Warm Springs (thermal), Merriweather Co.

Rate of Mortality in Georgia, as computed from the U. S. Census of 1880:

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1,000, White.	Rate per 1,000, Colored.
1,542,180	21,549	13.97	10,195	11,354	12.48	15.65

The total number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 1,718, which was at the rate of 1.10 per 1,000 of population, or 79.72 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF GEORGIA.

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE IN THE STATE OF GEORGIA.

SECTION 1. The General Assembly of Georgia do enact, That no person shall practice medicine within this State unless he has been legally authorized so to do, or shall hereafter be authorized so to do, by a diploma from an incorporated medical college, medical school or university, and by compliance with subsequent sections of this act.

2. Be it further enacted, That, for the purpose of this act, the words "practice medicine" shall mean to suggest, recommend, prescribe or direct, for the use of any person, any drug, medicine, appliance, apparatus or other agency, whether material or not material for the cure, relief or palliation of any ailment or disease of the mind or body, or for the cure or relief of any wound, fracture or bodily injury or other deformity, after having received or with the intent of receiving therefor, either directly or indirectly, any bonus, gift or compensation.

3. * * * * That every person now lawfully engaged in the practice of medicine within this State, shall, on or before the first day of December, eighteen hundred and eighty-one, and every person hereafter duly qualified to practice medicine, shall before commencing to practice, register in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court of the county wherein he resides and is practicing, or intends to commence the practice of medicine, in a book to be kept for the purpose by said clerk, his name, residence and place of birth, together with his authority for practicing medicine, as prescribed in this act. The person so registering shall subscribe or verify, by oath or affirmation, before a person duly qualified to administer oaths under the laws of this State, an affidavit containing such facts, and whether such authority is by diploma or license, and the date of the same, and by whom granted, which shall be exhibited to the county clerk before the applicant shall be allowed to register, and which, if wilfully false, shall subject the affiant to conviction and punishment for false swearing. The county clerk to receive a fee of fifty cents for each registration, to be paid by the person so registering.

4. * * * * That any registered physician in this State, who may change his residence from one county into another county in this State, shall register within the clerk's office of the county to which he removes, and wherein he intends to reside and to practice medicine, as provided in section three of this act.

5. * * * * That any person who violates any of the four preceding sections of this act, or who shall practice or offer to practice medicine without lawful authority, or under cover of a diploma or license illegally obtained, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty nor more than ninety days, or both. The fine, when collected, shall be paid, the one-half to the person, persons or corporation making the complaint, the other half into the county treasury.

6. * * * * That nothing in this act shall apply to commissioned medical officers of the United States army or navy, or to the United States marine hospital service, or to legally qualified dentists in the practice of their profession, or to any woman practicing only midwifery.

7. * * * * That all provisions of laws providing for the organization, qualification and duties of any and all boards of physicians, of any school whatever, be, and the same are hereby, repealed, and there shall henceforth exist in this State no board of physicians, but the only requisite qualifications of practitioners of medicine shall be those hereinbefore set forth.

8. * * * * That all laws or parts of laws in conflict with this act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Approved September 28, 1881.

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE GRANTING OF MEDICAL DIPLOMAS.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, etc., That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for the faculty or officers of any medical college in the State of Georgia to grant or issue a diploma to any student of medicine, or other person, unless said student or other person shall have attended two or more full courses of study in some regularly chartered medical college in good standing, and shall have submitted to and passed a creditable examination by the faculty or professors of said college upon all the branches usually taught in medical colleges.

2. * * * * That if the faculty or officers of any medical college in this State shall violate any of the provisions of the preceding section of this act, he or they shall be subject to a fine of five thousand dollars, said fine to be collected out of the property of any or all of said faculty or officers of said college. The fine, when collected, shall be paid, the one-half to the person, persons or corporation giving the information, the other half into the county treasury, to be used for educational purposes only.

3. * * * * That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Approved September 27, 1881.

IDAHO.

CAPITAL, BOISE CITY.

POPULATION OF TERRITORY, 32,610.

(Census of 1880.)

Males	21,818	Native	22,636
Females	10,792	Foreign	9,974
White	29,013	Chinese	3,379
Colored	53	Indians	165

Idaho extends from 42° to 49° north latitude, and from 111° to 117° west longitude, and is bounded on the north by British Columbia, on the south by Nevada and Utah, on the east by Montana and Wyoming, and on the west by Washington and Oregon. It comprises an area of 86,294 square miles, or 55,228,160 acres. The Bitter Root mountains, a chain of the Rockies, form the northeastern boundary, and their spurs and extensions occupy a considerable portion of its surface.

The rivers of the Territory are, with the exception of the Bear river, tributaries of the Columbia.

The climate is cool and healthful, the mean annual temperature being 52.46.

Grazing is one of the main industries of Idaho, but all cereals flourish abundantly, the staples being barley, wheat, oats and potatoes.

The Territory is rich in minerals, gold, silver, copper, iron, lead and coal being mined extensively.

ABBREVIATIONS—*R., Regular; H., Homœopathic; Ecl., Eclectic; P. M., Physio-Medical; , No report received in answer to enquiry regarding graduation; ‡, Attended lectures but did not graduate; §, Holds certificate of Examining Board; ‖, Not a graduate; ¶, Claims to have graduated, but the records do not show that a diploma was granted to any one bearing the name; †, Legally authorized under the "years of practice" section of act.

Vast forests of red fir, white pine, white cedar, hemlock, tamarack and larch are interspersed over the surface.

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the total number of establishments at that time to have been 162; capital invested, $677,215; number of hands employed, 388; total wages paid during the year, $136,326; value of materials, $844,874; value of products, $1,271,317.

The educational and religious advantages are excellent.

There are numerous mineral springs in Idaho, but they have not as yet been used for medicinal purposes. Large quantities of salt are manufactured from the soda springs in the southern portion of the Territory.

There are no medical institutions.

Rate of Mortality in Colorado, as computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1,000 White.	Rate per 1,000 Colored.
32,610	323	9.90	306	17	10.54	4.72

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 22, which was at the rate of 1.50 per 1,000 of population or 68.11 per 1,000 of total deaths.

No Territorial Board of Health.

MEDICAL LAWS OF IDAHO.

(Illinois State Board of Health Report.)

Dr. Jesse K. Dubois, of Boise City, writes: "There are no laws governing the practice of physic in this Territory. Our legislature meets biennially, and last winter we attempted to have a bill passed regulating the practice, but without avail. The profession is represented by some good men and honest men. There are others not so good or honest. But the members of the legislature do not seem inclined to protect the profession from the invasion of adventurers and charlatans from the eastern States and California, and we have no means of relief. It would be desirable to have some regulations, but there are no chances for that for two years at least."

Illinois extends from 37° 3′ to 42° 30′ n. lat., and from 87° 30′ to 91° and 40′ w. long., and is bounded on the north by Wisconsin, on the east by Lake Michigan and the State of Indiana, on the south by the Ohio river, which separates it from Kentucky, and on the west by Iowa and Missouri. It comprises an area of 55,410 square miles, or 35,462,400 acres. The surface is generally level, sloping gently from north and east towards the Mississippi and Ohio rivers. It is, however, by no means an unbroken plain, as the many streams which flow through the State have cut deep beds in the yielding alluvial soil forming in places precipitous slopes and bluffs. The principal rivers are the Mississippi, which flows along the western border, the Illinois, which intersects the State laterally, Rock river in the north, the Ohio on the southern border, the Kaskaskia, Wabash, Fox, Spoon, Mackinaw, Embarras and Vermillion, besides many smaller streams.

The climate is very variable, and is marked by great extremes, the summers being warm and the winters extremely cold. The mean annual temperature is about 52°, that of the summer 75°, and of the winter 28°. The climate is generally salubrious except in the low, swampy-bottom lands where the settlers are subject to chills and fevers. The average annual rainfall is about 35 inches.

Silver, copper, zinc, freestone, gypsum, marble and coal are the principal mineral treasures of Illinois. The soil is exceedingly fertile, and agriculture is the leading industry.

The following table shows the increase in population for the past 60 years:

1820	55,162	1860	1,711,951
1830	157,445	1870	2,539,891
1840	476,183	1880	3,077,871
1850	851,470

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments at that time to have been 14,549; capital invested, $140,652,066; number of hands employed, 144,727; total wages paid during year, $57,429,085; value of materials, $289,826,907; value of products, $414,864,673.

The religious and educational facilities are equal to those of any State in the Union.

The principal mineral springs in Illinois are the Perry Springs (alkaline), in Pike county, Sailor's Springs in Clay county, Schuyler County Springs (chalybeate) in Schuyler county, and Versailles Springs (alkaline) in Brown county.

The following is a list of the medical colleges in the State: Rush Medical College, Chicago; Chicago Medical College, Chicago; Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Bennett College of Eclectic Medicine and Surgery, Chicago; Women's Medical College of Chicago, Chicago; Chicago Homœopathic Medical College, Chicago; College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago, and the Quincy College of Medicine, Quincy.

MEDICAL LAWS OF ILLINOIS.

(Illinois State Board of Health Report)

While still a Territory and sparsely settled, only along the river fronts and water courses of Southern Illinois, efforts were already being made by the pioneer practitioners to regulate the practice of medicine and to foster and encourage the cause of medical education. In 1817 an act of the Territorial Legislature—with a preamble reciting that "well regulated medical societies have been found to contribute to the diffusion of true science, and particularly to the knowledge of the healing art"—divided the Territory into two medical districts; all that portion of the Territory lying east of the meridian line "running due north from the mouth of Ohio." formed the Eastern Medical District, and that west of the said line formed the Western Medical District. In the former, Drs. I. D. Wolverton, James E. Throgmorton, Thomas Shannon, Henry Oldham, James Wilson, John Reid, Amos Chipp, Samuel R. Campbell and Hardin M. Wetherford were authorized to meet at Carmi, White county; and in the latter, Drs. Joseph Bowers, "Todd of Edwardsville," "Hancock and Heath of St. Clair," Caldwell, Carnes, George Fisher, W. L. Reynolds, George Cadwell and "Penn of Kaskaskia," were empowered to meet at Kaskaskia, Randolph county, "on the first Monday of May. in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and eighteen," and there proceed to the choice of officers for the respective societies so constituted.

Section 2 directed that these societies should hold annual meetings, and endowed them with the usual powers, duties and responsibilities of corporate bodies. Sec. 3 empowered them to examine students and grant diplomas, charging a fee of ten dollars for each diploma. Sec. 4 provided for the appointment of censors, authorized to examine students; those passing such examination receiving a license from the president of the society which entitled them "to practice physic or surgery, or both, until the next annual meeting," at which it is inferred they were then provided with the diploma. Sec. 5 made it unlawful for any person, after the organization of the said societies, to commence practice without passing the examination and obtaining the diploma; the penalty for so doing being disqualification "forever thereafter," for the collection of any debts incurred by such unauthorized practice. Sec. 6 empowered the societies to acquire and hold property, real and personal, to the amount of twenty thousand dollars each. Sec. 7 concerned the right of the societies to make by-laws, rules and regulations. Sections 8 and 9 related to the fiscal affairs of the societies, the duties of the treasurer and president in relation thereto, and to the duties of the secretary. Sec. 10 provided for the assessment of members, not exceeding ten dollars annually, "for the purpose of procuring a medical library and apparatus, and for the encouragement of useful discoveries in chemistry, botany, and such other improvements as the majority of the society shall think proper." Sec. 11 recognized the right of any one to come into the Territory to practice who was duly authorized to practice in the State, Territory or country from which he came, and "having a diploma from any such medical society." Sections 12 and 13 provided for alteration, modification or repeal of the act, and declared it in force from and after its passage, December 31st, 1817.

Within a year after the passage of this act the State was admitted into the Union, December 3, 1818, and there is no record that any action was taken to carry out its provisions. During the session of the first General Assembly the following act was passed:

AN ACT FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF MEDICAL SOCIETIES. APPROVED MARCH 24TH, 1819.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly: That the State shall be divided into four medical districts, in each of which there shall be held a board of physicians. The counties of Bond, Madison, Washington, St. Clair and Monroe shall form the first district; it shall be the duty of each and every practicing physician to meet at the town of Belleville, on the second Monday in May next. The counties of Franklin, Johnson, Alexander, Union, Jackson and Randolph shall form the second district and hold their meeting in Brownsville, on the same day. The counties of Pope, Gallatin, White and Jefferson, shall form the third district, and meet on the same day at Shawneetown. The counties of Edwards, Crawford, Wayne and Clark shall form the fourth district, and meet at the town of Palmyra, on the day before mentioned. And being so convened as aforesaid, or any of them, being not less than five in number, shall proceed to the choice of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, who shall hold their offices for one year and until others are chosen in their places.

2. And be it further enacted, That whenever said societies shall be organized as aforesaid, they are hereby declared bodies corporate and politic in fact and in name, by the name of the medical society of the district where such societies shall be respectively formed, and by that name shall in law be capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all matters and causes whatsoever, and shall and may have a common seal, and may alter and renew the same at pleasure. And the said medical societies shall and may agree upon the times and places of their next meeting.

3. And be it further enacted, That said societies, established as aforesaid, shall have power to examine all students who may make application for that purpose, and grant diplomas under the hand and seal of the president before whom such student may be examined: Provided, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent any person coming from any other place from practicing in this State, such person producing to either of said societies a diploma from any respectable university of the United States or any other country. And the person receiving such diploma shall, upon the receipt of the same, pay to the treasurer of said society the sum of ten dollars for the use of said society.

4. And be it further enacted, That from and after the organization of the said medical societies, no person not having a diploma, or previously practicing in the State, shall commence the practice of physic and surgery in either of the aforesaid districts, until he shall have passed an examination as hereinafter directed; and if any person shall so practice previous to having obtained a diploma, he shall thereafter be disqualified from collecting any debt or debts incurred by such practice, in any court or before any magistrate in this State.

5. And be it further enacted, That the aforesaid medical societies shall, at such annual meetings, appoint a committee of five of their members, whose duty it shall be, or any two of them, at all times to examine such student as may make application for that purpose; and shall grant to such student a certificate, if qualified, which shall be sufficient to empower him to practice until the next meeting of such society, whereupon, by producing said certificate, the president shall grant a diploma agreeably to the rules and regulations of said society.

6. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the medical societies established by this act, to purchase and hold any estate, real and personal, for the use of the societies respectively.

7. And be it further enacted, That the societies established by this act shall be empowered to make such by-laws, rules and regulations, relative to the affairs and property of said societies, as they or a majority of their members shall deem most proper and correct: Provided, that the by-laws, rules and regulations be not contrary to, nor inconsistent with, the Constitution of the United States or of this State.

8. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of every physician, residing within the bounds of either of the aforesaid districts, to keep a true and accurate record of all the births, deaths and diseases which may take place within the vicinity of his practice, which record, or a copy of the same, he shall transmit to the president of the society, and which list or record shall be by the president published in one or more newspapers of this State; and any physician refusing or failing to make out the aforesaid list or record, and transmitting the same as aforesaid, shall pay to such society as he may belong, the sum of ten dollars for the use of said society.

9. And be it further enacted, That if any physician residing in this State at the passage of this act shall refuse to attend on the second Monday in May next, or any other of the stated meetings of said societies, [he] shall pay to the treasurer of the society of which he is a member, the sum of five dollars, unless a good and sufficient excuse shall be given at the next meeting of said society.

10. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each society to deputize one of its members as a member of a general or State society, which shall be holden each year at the seat of government, and organized in the same manner as the district societies first before mentioned.

11. And be it further enacted, That the board of physicians may examine medical bills, which may be by the patient considered exorbitant, and make such deductions as may to them seem reasonable; and when such deduction is made, it shall be obligatory on the physician making the same to return such part or surplus as may be unreasonably made, which may be recovered before any justice of the peace or court of law, with costs.

Two years later, January 3, 1821, the foregoing act was repealed, and the Fourth General Assembly then enacted the following:

AN ACT prescribing the mode of licensing physicians. Approved January 15, 1825.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly.

SECTION 1. That for the purpose of forming a board of censors to grant license to practicing physicians in this State, there shall be five districts formed: the first district to be composed of the counties of Pike, Fulton, Greene, Morgan, Sangamon, Montgomery and Fayette; the second district of the counties of Jackson, Randolph, Monroe, St. Clair, Madison and Bond; the third district, of the counties of Alexander, Pope, Gallatin, Johnson, Franklin and Union; the fourth district, of the counties of White, Edwards, Wabash, Lawrence, Edgar, Clark and Crawford; the fifth district, of the counties of Washington, Clinton, Wayne, Clay, Marion, Jefferson and Hamilton; and the practicing physicians residing in the several districts shall meet at Carrollton, for the first district; at Belleville, for the second district; at Golconda, for the third district; at Albion, for the fourth district; at Mt. Vernon, for the fifth district, on the first Monday in June, and hold an election among themselves, under such regulations as they, or a majority of them, may adopt, for one censor in each district; and the five censors, so elected, shall meet at the seat of government, on the first Monday of November next, and they, or a majority of them, shall form a board, for the purpose of examining and ascertaining the qualifications of those who wish to practice physic in this State, and grant a license to such as they may find properly qualified. It shall not, however, be necessary for any one to make personal application, who may heretofore have obtained the diploma of any respectable medical college, or the license of any respectable medical society; and upon sending such diploma or certificate to the said board of censors, they shall, upon being satisfied of the authenticity thereof, issue their license to such person to practice in this State.

2. Be it further enacted, That after the meeting of the board of censors, the resident physicians of each district having obtained the certificate of said board, shall meet at such time and place, within their respective districts, as the censor thereof may appoint, notice of which shall be given by said censors, by advertising the same not less than three times in some public newspaper printed in this State, at which meeting they, or a majority of them, may authorize one or more of their body to examine physicians emigrating to this State or those wishing to commence the practice of physic, and grant them a license, if they may deem them qualified.

3. Be it further enacted, That if any person should practice physic, without obtaining a license as aforesaid, he shall be deemed an illegal practitioner, and shall be debarred from recovering any debt or debts which may accrue from such practice; and if he charges for such practice, he shall forfeit and pay for every such offense, the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered before any justice of the peace, in the county where such offense may be committed, by any person who may prosecute for the same; and the justice before whom such conviction may be had, shall pay the amount thereof to the overseers of the poor of said county for the use of the poor therein; and it shall be the duty of the overseers of the poor to prosecute the same whenever it shall come to their knowledge that an illegal practitioner is practicing and receiving pay therefor: Provided, always, that students practicing under the direction of legal practicing physicians, shall not be subject to such penalty.

4. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of all justices of the peace, as well as of the circuit court, to inspect and allow all physicians' bills, whenever the same shall come before them, when suit shall be brought on the same, and shall instruct the jury, both in relation to the proof necessary to establish the same; and it shall be in the power of the jury to reduce the charge to a reasonable amount, if the same shall be overcharged: Provided, that the justice of the peace shall select a jury of not less than six householders, resident in the county, which judgments shall be subject to appeals as in all other cases.

5. Be it further enacted, That the board of censors are hereby required to lay before the next General Assembly, a plan for their consideration, by which a permanent system may be adopted for better regulating the practice of medicine.

This act had even a shorter life than its predecessors, for one of the first measures of the next General Assembly was its repeal, January 25, 1826. A perusal of the provisions of these various efforts readily indicates the causes of their miscarriage. The territory was too new; the community spare and widely scattered; the number of physicians few; facilities for travel and intercourse were wanting; mails were infrequent—and, withal, there were other questions, doubtless considered of more vital importance, than the statutory regulation of the practice of medicine.

At least five other unsuccessful attempts were subsequently made before the passage of the acts now in force. In 1868 a bill for "An Act for the better Regulation of the Practice of Medicine and Surgery in the State of Illinois," was drafted by Drs. David S. Booth and H. R. Guthrie, of Sparta, Randolph county, and was entrusted to the Hon. John M. McCutcheon, member of the Twenty-Sixth General Assembly. Nothing, however, was done with this bill at that session, and it was finally presented to the Southern Illinois Medical Association, at its second meeting, in June, 1875. At a subsequent meeting the association appointed Dr. Booth and Dr. S. H. Bundy, (then of Marion, Williamson county, subsequently of Metropolis, Massac county,) a committee to urge the Legislature to action on the subject; but it was not until toward the close of the session of the Thirtieth General Assembly, May, 1877, that the present acts were finally passed.

The Medical Practice Act, now in the seventh year of successful operation, differs materially from the bill drafted by Drs. Booth and Guthrie, and even the most sanguine were more or less disappointed with the form it finally assumed. Little, if any, practical improvement in the status of the profession was at first anticipated from its enactment, while many prophesied the speedy repeal both of this act and of its complement, the State Board of Health Act. The full text of the Act to regulate the Practice of Medicine, and those sections of the State Board of Health Act which relate to it, are here given:

AN ACT to Create and Establish a State Board of Health in the State of Illinois. Approved May 25, 1877; in force July 1, 1877. [Only those sections are here given which have a bearing upon the Act to Regulate the Practice of Medicine.]

APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS; TERM OF OFFICE; VACANCIES: SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly. That the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint seven persons, who shall constitute the Board of Health. The persons so appointed shall hold their offices for seven years: Provided, that the terms of office of the seven first appointed shall be so arranged that the term of one shall expire on the thirtieth day of December of each year, and the vacancies so created, as well as all vacancies occurring otherwise, shall be filled by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate: And provided, also, that appointments made when the Senate is not in session may be confirmed at its next ensuing session.

MEETINGS OF THE BOARD: 10. The first meeting of the Board shall be within fifteen days after their appointment, and thereafter in January and June of each year, and at such other times as the Board shall deem expedient. The meetings in January of each year shall be in Springfield. A majority shall constitute a quorum. They shall choose one of their number to be president, and they may adopt rules and by-laws for their government, subject to the provisions of this act.

AN ACT to Regulate the Practice of Medicine in the State of Illinois. Approved May 29, 1877; in force July 1, 1877.

ADMISSIONS TO PRACTICE MEDICINE: SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly, That every person practicing medicine, in any of its departments, shall possess the qualifications required by this act. If a graduate in medicine, he shall present his diploma to the State Board of Health * * * for verification as to its genuineness. If the diploma is found genuine, and if the person named therein be the person claiming and presenting the same, the State Board of Health * * * shall issue its certificate to that effect, signed by all of the members thereof, and such diploma and certificate shall be conclusive as to the right of the lawful holder of the same to practice medicine in this State. If not a graduate, the person practicing medicine in this State shall present himself before said Board, and submit himself to such examination as the said Board shall require; and, if the examination be satisfactory to the examiners, the said Board shall issue its certificate in accordance with the facts, and the lawful holder of such certificate shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges herein mentioned.

2. [This section is omitted as void, by reason of the passage, at the same session, of the act establishing a State Board of Health. The section refers to the mode of providing boards of examiners in the absence of such State Board. The omissions indicated by asterisks in section 1, and in the remaining sections, also have reference to this provision for other boards.]

ORGANIZATION, DUTIES AND POWER OF STATE BOARD: Sec. 3. The State Board of Health * * * shall organize within three months after the passage of this act; they shall procure a seal, and shall receive through their secretary, applications for certificates and examinations; the president * * * shall have authority to administer oaths, and the board to take testimony in all matters relating to their duties; they shall issue certificates to all who furnish satisfactory proof of having received diplomas or licenses from legally chartered medical institutions in good standing; they shall prepare two forms of certificates, one for persons in possession of diplomas or licenses, the other for candidates examined by the board; they shall furnish to the county clerks of the several counties a list of all persons receiving certificates. In selecting places to hold their meetings, they shall, as far as is reasonable, accommodate applicants residing in different sections of the State, and due notice shall be published of all their meetings. Certificates shall be signed by all the members of the board granting them * * *

VERIFICATION OF DIPLOMAS: FEE AND PENALTY: 4. Said State Board of Health * * * shall examine diplomas as to their genuineness, and if the diploma shall be found genuine as represented, the secretary of the State Board of Health * * * shall receive a fee of one dollar from such graduate or licentiate, and no further charge shall be made to the applicants. but if it be found to be fraudulent, or not lawfully owned by the possessor, the board shall be entitled to charge and collect twenty dollars of the applicant presenting such diploma. The verification of the diploma shall consist in the affidavit of the holder and applicant that he is the lawful possessor of the same, and that he is the person therein named. Such affidavit may be taken before any person authorized to administer oaths, and the same shall be attested under the hand and official seal of such officer, if he have a seal. Graduates may present their diplomas and affidavit as provided in this act, by letter or by proxy, and the State Board of Health * * * shall issue its certificate the same as though the owner of the diploma was present.

EXAMINATION OF NON-GRADUATES: 5. All examinations of persons not graduates or licentiates shall be made directly by the board, and the certificate given by the board shall authorize the possessor to practice medicine and surgery in the State of Illinois.

CERTIFICATES MUST BE RECORDED: 6. Every person holding a certificate from the State Board of Health * * * shall have it recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which he resides, and the record shall be endorsed thereon. Any person removing to another county to practice shall procure an endorsement to that effect on the certificate from the county clerk, and shall record the certificate, in like manner, in the county to which he removes, and the holder of the certificate shall pay to the county clerk the usual fee for making the record.

RECORD BOOK TO BE KEPT BY COUNTY CLERK: 7. The county clerk shall keep, in a book provided for that purpose, a complete list of the certificates recorded by him, with the date of the issue. * * * If the certificate be based on a diploma or license, he shall record the name of the medical institution conferring it, and the date when conferred. The register of the county clerk shall be open to public inspection during business hours.

FEE FOR EXAMINING NON-GRADUATES: 8. Candidates for examination shall pay a fee of five dollars, in advance, which shall be returned to them if a candidate be refused. The fees received by the Board shall be paid into the treasury. * * *

CHARACTER OF EXAMINATION: 9. Examinations may be in whole or in part in writing, and shall be of an elementary and practical character, but sufficiently strict to test the qualifications of the candidate as a practitioner.

CERTIFICATES MAY BE REFUSED OR REVOKED: 10. The State Board of Health * * * may refuse certificates to individuals guilty of unprofessional or dishonorable conduct, and they may revoke certificates for like causes. In all cases of refusal or revocation, the applicant may appeal to the body appointing the Board.

DEFINITION OF "PRACTICING MEDICINE:" 11. Any person shall be regarded as practicing medicine within the meaning of this act, who shall profess publicly to be a physician, and to prescribe for the sick, or who shall append to his name the letters of "M. D." But nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit students from prescribing under the supervision of preceptors, or to prohibit gratuitous services in cases of emergency. And this act shall not apply to commissioned surgeons in the United States army and navy.

LICENSE TO ITINERANT VENDERS: 12. Any itinerant vender of any drug, nostrum, ointment or appliance of any kind, intended for the treatment of disease or injury, or who shall, by writing or printing, or any other method, publicly profess to cure or treat diseases, injury or deformity by any drug, nostrum, manipulation or other expedient, shall pay a license of one hundred dollars a month, to be collected in the usual way.

PENALTIES FOR NON-COMPLIANCE WITH THIS ACT: 13. Any person practicing medicine or surgery in this State without complying with the provisions of this act, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than thirty days nor more than three hundred and sixty-five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each and every offense; and any person filing, or attempting to file, as his own, the diploma or certificate of another, or a forged affidavit of identification, shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction, shall be subject to such fine and imprisonment as are made and provided by the statutes of this State for the crime of forgery, but the penalties shall not be enforced till on and after the thirty-first day of December, eighteen hundred and seventy-seven: Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to those that have been practicing medicine ten years within this State.

ILLINOIS STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Organized July, 1877.—First examination was held November 1, 1877. Examinations are now held in Chicago or Springfield once annually.

This Board in accordance with the Medical Practice Act of Illinois, grants licenses to practice medicine and surgery within the State.

The following are extracts from the act conferring this power—see full text above:

The State Board of Health * * * shall receive through its secretary applications for certificates and examinations. * * * * If not a graduate, the person practicing medicine in this State shall present himself before said Board, and submit himself to such examination as the said Board shall require; and if the examination be satisfactory to the examiners, the said Board shall issue its certificate in accordance with the facts, and the lawful holder of such certificate shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges herein mentioned.

It shall prepare two forms of certificates, one for persons in possession of diplomas or licenses, the other for candidates examined by the Board; and shall furnish to the county clerks of the several counties a list of all persons receiving certificates.

The State Board of Health may refuse certificates to individuals guilty of unprofessional or dishonorable conduct, and may revoke certificates for like causes. In all cases of refusal or revocation the applicant may appeal to the body appointing the Board.

8. Candidates for examination shall pay a fee of five dollars, in advance, which shall be returned to them if a certificate be refused.

9. Examinations may be made wholly or in part in writing, and shall be of an elementary and practical character, but sufficiently strict to test the qualifications of the candidate as a practitioner.

All examinations of persons not graduates or licentiates, shall be made directly by the Board, and the certificates given by the Board shall authorize the possessor to practice medicine and surgery in the State of Illinois.

Where the candidates have any special views of theory and practice of medicine or of therapeutics, respect is paid to such views, and they are allowed, upon request, to appear before individual members of the Board for especial examination in such branches. Examinations are conducted in the English language. If made in another language, interpreters must be furnished at the expense of the applicant.

All candidates must pass a preliminary examination such as is indicated in the "minimum requirements," and must fill out the following:

Application for Examination before the Illinois State Board of Health, under the Act to Regulate the Practice of Medicine in the State of Illinois.

INDIANA.

CAPITAL, INDIANAPOLIS.

POPULATION, 1,978,301.

(Census of 1880).

Males	1,010,361	Native	1,834,123
Females	967,940	Foreign	144,178
Whites	1,938,798	Chinese	29
Colored	39,228	Indians	246

Indiana extends from 37° 51′ to 41° 46′ n. lat., and from 85° 48′ to 88° 1′ w. long., and is bounded on the north by Michigan and Lake Michigan, on the south by the Ohio river, which separates it from Kentucky, on the east by Ohio, and on the west by Illinois. It comprises an area of 33,809 square miles, or 21,737,760 acres. The surface is generally level, with the exception of the eastern portion, which has an average elevation of from 700 to 900 feet. The alluvial soil readity yields to the erosive power of running water, and most of the rivers have cut their beds deep into the ground, forming what are locally known as "river hills." The vast forests are rapidly disappearing. They consist chiefly of black walnut, oak, ash, maple poplar, tulip, beech, sycamore and other deciduous trees.

The principal rivers are the Ohio, which washes the southern portion of the State, the Wabash, the Calumet, the White, St. Joseph, and many smaller streams.

The climate is salubrious, and is somewhat milder than is experienced in the same latitudes on the Atlantic coast. The winters are cold, but not of long duration, and the summers are often very hot. The mean annual temperature, as observed at Indianapolis, is 51°, that of the summer 72.64, and of the winter 28.71. The average annual rainfall is about 43 inches.

Indiana is mainly an agricultural State, the river bottoms being extremely fertile and yielding rich returns. Indian corn is the staple. Coal and iron are the principal minerals.

The following table shows the increase in population for the past 60 years:

1820	147,178	1860	1,350,428
1830	343,031	1870	1,680,637
1840	685,866	1880	1,978,301
1850	988,416

The census for manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments in operation at that time to have been 11,198; capital invested, $65,742,962; number of hands employed, 69,508; total wages paid during year, $21,960,888; value of materials, $100,260,892; value of products, $148,006,411.

The following is a list of the Medical Colleges in Indiana : Physo-Medical College of Indiana, Indianapolis; Medical College of Indiana, Indianapolis; Central College of Physicians and Surgeons, Indianapolis; Fort Wayne College of Medicine, Fort Wayne; Indiana Eclectic Medical College, Indianapolis; Hospital Medical College of Evansville, Evansville.

The principal mineral springs are French Lick Springs, in Orange county; West Baden Springs, Orange county; Indian Springs, Martin county; Lodi Artesian Well, Wabash county; Lafayette Well, Tippecanoe county; Knightstown Springs, Henry county; Greencastle Springs, Putnam county, and Trinity Springs, Martin county.

The religious and educational facilities leave nothing to be desired.

Rate of Mortality in Indiana as Computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored	Rate per 1,000 White.	Rate per 1,000 Colored.
1,978,301	31,213	15.78	44,185	832	14.57	17.80

The number of deaths from consumption during 1880, was 3,943, which was at the rate of 1.90 per 1,000 of population, or 126.32 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF INDIANA.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That it shall be unlawful for any person to practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics in this State without first obtaining a license so to do, as hereinafter provided.

2. Any person desiring to practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics in this State shall procure from the clerk of the Circuit Court of the county wherein he or she desires to practice, a license so to do, which license shall be issued to such person only when he or she shall have complied with the following conditions, to wit: When such applicant shall file with such clerk his or her affidavit, and the affidavits of two freeholders or householders of the county, stating that such applicant has regularly graduated in some reputable medical college, and shall exhibit to such clerk the diploma held by such applicant; or when such applicant shall file with such clerk his or her affidavit stating that he or she has resided and practiced medicine, surgery and obstetrics in this State, continuously, for ten years immediately preceding the date of the taking effect of this act; or when such applicant shall file with such clerk his or her affidavit stating that he or she has resided and practiced medicine, surgery and obstetrics in this State, continuously, for three years immediately preceding the date of the taking effect of this act, and had, prior to said date, attended one full course of lectures in some reputable medical college. Such applicant shall pay to such clerk, for such license, the sum of one dollar and fifty cents, and such clerk shall record such license, together with the name of the college in which such applicant graduated and the date of his or her diploma, in a book to be kept for such purpose, and which shall be a public record.

3. Any clerk who shall issue a license to practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics to any person who has not complied with the requirements of Section 2 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars, and such license, or one procured by any false affidavit, shall be deemed and held to be void.

4. Any person who shall practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics in this State, without having first procured from the clerk of the Circuit Court of the county wherein he or she shall so practice, a license, as provided in this act, shall be deemad guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars : Provided, That this act shall not be deemed to prohibit women from practicing obstetrics, and such midwives are hereby expressly exempted from its provisions.

5. No cause of action shall lie in favor of any person for services as physician, surgeon or obstetrician, who had not, prior to the rendition of such services, procured a licence to practice, as herein provided for, and any person who shall pay any sum of money or deliver any property for any such services to any person who is not so licensed, may recover the same, or the value thereof, in any court of competent jurisdiction in this State.

6. The following shall be the form of this act: The clerks of the Circuit Courts shall appropriately fill up the blanks, and issue the same under the seal of their respective courts, to wit: The State of Indiana, ——— County, ss: I, ———, Clerk of the Circuit Court of ———, in said State, do hereby certify that ——— has complied with the laws of the State of Indiana relating to the practice of medicine, surgery and obstetrics, and is hereby authorized to practice medicine, surgery and obstetrics in said county. Witness my hand and the seal of said court, this ——— day of ———, 18—. ———, Clerk.

7. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after the first day of September, 1885.

INDIAN TERRITORY.

POPULATION, 75,000.

(Estimated 1880.)

The Territory is bounded on the north by Kansas and Colorado, on the south by Texas, on the east by Missouri and Arkansas and on the west by Texas and Colorado, and comprises an area of 68,991 square miles, or 44,154,240 acres. It forms part of that vast inclined plane which slopes gradually down from the base of the Rockies to the Mississippi river. The valleys of the rivers in the eastern portion are fertile, but the western part belongs to what was originally known as the "Great American Desert." The Arkansas, Red and Canadian rivers with their tributaries drain the Territory. The climate is warm and dry, the southeastern being the hottest and the northwestern the coldest portion; the mean annual temperature in the former is 60° and the latter 55°. The annual rainfall varies from 52 inches in the southeastern to 20 in the northwestern corner. The river borders are fringed with cottonwoods and the land is mostly prairie.

ABBREVIATIONS—*R., Regular; H., Homœopathic; Ecl., Eclectic; P. M., Physio-Medical; , No report received in answer to enquiry regarding graduation; ‡, Attended lectures but did not graduate; §, Holds certificate of Examining Board, ‖, Not a graduate; ¶, Claims to have graduated, but the records do not show that a diploma was granted to any one bearing the name; †, Legally authorized under the "years of practice" section of act.

The Indians have made considerable advances in civilization during the past few years, have newspapers printed in their own language, good schools and are engaged in agriculture and a few branches of manufacturing. No reliable statistics regarding the Teritory are obtainable.

NOTE.—The populations given in the sketches of the Territory refer to the whites and civilized Indians only. The other Indians, not being considered citizens, are not included in the census reports and reliable statistics as to their numbers are not obtainable.

IOWA.

CAPITAL, DES MOINES.

POPULATION OF STATE, 1,624,615

(Census 1880).

POPULATION, 1885, 1,753,980; rate of increase 7.96.

Males	848,136	Native	1,362,965
Females	776,479	Foreign	261,650
White	1,614,600	Chinese	33
Colored	9,516	Indians	466

Iowa extends from 40° 25′ to 43° 30′ north latitude, and from 90° 18′ to 96° 53′ west longitude, and is bounded on the north by Minnesota, on the south by Missouri, on the east by Wisconsin and Illinois, and on the west by Dakota and Nebraska. It comprises an area of 55,045 square miles, or 35,228,800 acres, and forms part of an immense plain, unbroken by any mountain ranges. The Mississippi, which flows along the eastern border, and the Missouri, which washes the western shore, are the two great rivers of the State, and all the other rivers of Iowa are tributary to one or other of these mighty streams. The Des Moines, Red Cedar, Iowa, Skunk, Maquoketa and Turkey, are all tributaries of the Mississippi, and Chariton, Grand Platte, Nodaway, etc., belong to the Missouri drainage system. The climate is salubrious and is not marked by unhealthy extremes, the mean annual temperature, as observed at Des Moines, being 48.94, that of the summer 71.80, and of the winter 25.39. The average amount of rainfall is about 43 inches. Iowa is pre-eminently an agricultural state, and offers to the farmer and stock raiser advantages unsurpassed by any State in the Union, the soil being extremely fertile and productive. The principal minerals are coal, lead, iron, zinc and copper. Marble, limestone and freestone are found in large quantities.

The following table shows increase in population since 1840:

1840	43,112	1870	1,194,024
1850	192,214	1880	1,624,615
1860	674,963	1885	1,753,980

The supply of timber, though not abundant, is sufficient to meet the home demand. The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments in operation at that time to have been 6,921; capital invested, $33,987,886; number of hands employed 28,372, total wages paid during the year $19,725,962; value of materials $48,704,311; value of products $71,045,926. Iowa possesses excellent religious and educational advantages.

The following is a list of the medical colleges in the State :

College of Physicians and Surgeons, Keokuk.
Medical Department of the State University of Iowa, Iowa City.
Homœopathic Medical Department of the State University of Iowa, Iowa City.
Iowa Medical College (Eclectic), Des Moines.
College of Physicians and Surgeons of Iowa, Des Moines.
King Eclectic Medical College, Des Moines.

Rate of Mortality in Iowa, as computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1,000 White.	Rate per 1,000 Colored.
1,624,615	19,377	11.93	19,218	159	11.90	15.87

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 1,925, which was at the rate of 1.10 per 1,000 of population or 99.34 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF IOWA.

An act, passed in 1882, granting additional powers to cities, provides that cities organized under the general incorporation laws of the State, in addition to the powers already granted them, shall have power : To regulate, license, and tax itinerant doctors, physicians and surgeons.

Section 3643 of the General Statutes prohibits a doctor from giving, in his testimony before a court, any confidential communication properly entrusted to him in his professional capacity, and necessary and proper to enable him to discharge the functions of his office according to the usual course of practice.

The following is not yet passed, but is pending and will probably be a law by 1887, with possibly some modifications.

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY IN THE STATE OF IOWA.

SECTION 1. That every person practicing medicine, surgery or obstetrics, in any of their departments, within this State, shall possess the qualifications required by this act. If a graduate in medicine such person shall present his or her diploma to the State Board of Examiners, for verification as to its genuineness. If the diploma is found genuine, and is issued by a medical school legally organized and in good standing, whose teachers are graduates of a legally organized school, of which the State Board of Examiners shall determine, and if the person presenting and claiming such diploma be the person to whom the same was originally granted, then the State Board of Examiners shall issue its certificate to that effect signed by not less than five physicians thereof, representing one or more physicians of the schools on the board, and such certificate shall be conclusive as to the right of the lawful holder to practice medicine, surgery, and obstetrics within this State. If not a graduate, the person practicing medicine or surgery within this State, unless he or she shall have been in continuous practice in this State, for a period of not less than twelve years, of which he or she shall present to the State Board of Examiners satisfactory evidence of the same in the form of affidavits, shall appear before said State Board of Examiners and submit to such examination as said board may require. All examinations shall be conducted in writing, and all examination papers, together with the reports and action of the examiners thereon, shall be preserved as the records of the said board for a period of five years, during which time they shall remain open for inspection at the office of the said State Board of Examiners. Such examinations shall be in anatomy, physiology, general chemistry, pathology, therapeutics, principles and practice of medicine, surgery and obstetrics. Provided, that each applicant upon receiving from the secretary of the board an order for an examination shall receive also a confidential number, which he or she shall place upon his or her examination papers so that when said papers are passed upon by the examiners, the latter shall not know by what applicant said papers have been prepared. That upon each day of examination all candidates be given the same set or sets of questions. It is further provided that the examination papers shall be marked upon the scale of one hundred (100), and that in order to secure a license it shall be necessary for the applicant to attain such average as shall hereafter be determined by the State Board of Examiners. And if such examination be satisfactory to at least five physicians of said board, representing the different schools of medicine on the board, the board shall issue a certificate, which shall entitle the lawful holder thereof to all the rights and privileges herein provided, and the physicians and the secretary of the State Board of Health shall constitute and be deemed a board of examiners for the purpose of this act.

2. The State Board of Examiners shall procure a seal within sixty days after the passage of this act, and through the secretary of said board shall receive applications for certificates and examinations. The president, or any member of the board, shall have the authority to administer oaths and take testimony in all matters relating to their duties as examiners aforesaid.

The board shall provide three forms of certificates: One for persons in possession of genuine diplomas; one for candidates examined by the board, and one for persons who have practiced medicine or surgery in any of its departments for twelve years as hereinafter provided. Said certificates shall be signed by not less than five physicians of the board, and this number may act as examining board in the absence of the full board; provided that one or more members of the different schools of medicine represented in the State Board of Health shall also be represented in the board of examiners. The board of examiners shall hold meetings at such places as will best accommodate applicants residing in different portions of the State, and at any such time as they shall deem best, and due notice of the time and place of such meetings shall be published.

3. The board shall examine all diplomas submitted to them for such purpose, to determine their genuineness and the rightful ownership of the person presenting the same. The affidavit of the applicant and holder of any diploma that he or she is the person therein named, and is the lawful possessor thereof, shall be necessary to verify the same, with such other testimony as the board may require. Diplomas and accompanying affidavits may be presented in person or by proxy. If the diploma shall be found genuine, and in possession of the person to whom it was issued, the State Board of Examiners shall, upon the payment of a fee of two dollars to the secretary of the board, issue a certificate to the holder of such diploma, and no further fee or sum shall be demanded or collected from said applicant by said board for such certificate. If the diploma shall be found to be fraudulent, or not lawfully in possession of the holder or owner thereof, the person presenting such diploma, or holding or claiming possession thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, on complaint of the secretary of the State Board of Examiners, before any court of competent jurisdiction, be fined not less than twenty dollars.

4. Every person holding a certificate issued by the State Board of Examiners shall, within sixty days after the date of such certificate, have the same recorded in the office of the county recorder in the county wherein he resides, and should he remove from one county to another to practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics, his certificate must be recorded in the county to which he removes. The county recorder shall endorse upon the certificate the date of record, and he shall be entitled to charge and receive a fee of fifty cents for his services, the fee to be paid by the applicant.

5. The county recorder shall record, in a book provided for that purpose, a complete list of the certificates presented for record, and the date of their issue by the State Board of Examiners. If the certificate is issued by reason of a diploma, the name of the medical college conferring the same, and the date when conferred, shall be recorded; and when such certificate shall have been granted upon the examination of the board, or because of twelve years' practice in the State, such fact shall be recorded. Said records shall be open for inspection during business hours.

6. Candidates for examination shall pay in advance, to the secretary of the State Board of Examiners, a fee of fifteen dollars, which fee, together with the fees received for certificates, shall defray the entire expenses of the aforesaid board of examination, and the balance be converted to the State treasurer for the benefit of the school fund, except such an amount as will pay each member of the board ten dollars ($10) per day during the time he is in actual attendance upon the sessions of the said board for the purpose of performing the duties required of him under this act, and as will pay the secretary of the board such a salary as they may allow, not to exceed ten dollars per day during the time he is actually engaged in performing the work of the board under this act, and each member of the board of examiners shall also receive a sufficient amount to defray his actual and necessary expenses while in the discharge of the duties herein provided. Any one failing to pass the required examination shall be entitled to a second examination within six months without fee.

7. The State Board of Examiners may refuse to grant certificates to any person guilty of a misdemeanor, and may revoke certificates for like causes or for palpable evidence of incompetency, provided, such refusal or revocation of a certificate can only be made with the affirmative vote of at least five physicians of the State Board of Examiners, in which number shall be included one or more members of the different schools of medicine represented in said board; and provided further, that the standing of a legally chartered medical college from which a diploma may be presented, shall not be questioned except by a like vote.

8. Any person shall be deemed as practicing medicine, surgery or obstetrics within the meaning of this act, who shall publicly profess to be a physician, surgeon or obstetrician, and assume the duties, or who shall make a practice of prescribing (or of prescribing and furnishing) medicine for the sick, or who shall publicly profess to cure or heal, by any means whatsoever; but nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit students from prescribing under the supervision of preceptors, or gratuitous service in cases of emergency; nor shall this act apply to surgeons of the United States army and navy and marine hospital service; nor to physicians who have been in continuous practice (in this State) for twelve consecutive years—six years of which time shall have been in one locality—provided, such physician shall furnish the State Board of Examiners satisfactory evidence of such continuous practice, and shall procure the proper certificate as provided in this act, and for which certificate such physician shall pay to the secretary of the State Board of Examiners a fee of two dollars, and thereafter such physician shall be amenable to the provisions of this act. Nor shall this act apply to registered pharmacists when filling physicians' prescriptions.

9. Every itinerant vender of any drug, nostrum, ointment, liniment, or appliance of any kind, intended for the treatment of disease or injury, who shall by any method publicly profess to cure or treat disease, injury or deformity, within this State, shall pay a license of fifty dollars each month or fraction thereof, said license fee to be paid to the county treasurer of the county wherein such vender transacts such business or profession; and any person who shall transact any such business or profession without a license shall, on conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, and stand committed until paid.

10. Any person who shall practice medicine or surgery within this State, without having complied with the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than fifty and not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten days and not exceeding thirty days.

11. Any person who shall file, or attempt to file, with the State Board of Examiners, as his or her own, the diploma of another person; or who shall file, or attempt to file, with the county recorder the certificate of another person as his or her own; or who shall file, or attempt to file, a diploma or certificate with the true name erased therefrom and the claimant's name inserted; or who shall file, or attempt to file, any forged affidavit of identification, such person shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to the penalty provided by the statutes of this State for the crime of forgery.

12. The penalties as provided in this act, for violations thereof, shall not be enforced prior to the first day of January, A. D. 1887.

13. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

14. This act, being deemed of immediate importance, shall be in full force and effect from and after its publication in two of the daily newspapers published at Des Moines, Iowa.

The postoffice address is shown in Display Type, the name of county in which it is located immediately follows, and then the population of the place. The names of Physicians appear under the postoffice name, the first number (the key to which will be found on pages 101 to 120) indicates the college of graduation, and the last number the year in which diploma was granted.

KANSAS.

CAPITAL, TOPEKA.

POPULATION OF STATE, 996,096.

(Census of 1880.)

Males	536,667	Native	886,010
Females	459,429	Foreign	110,086
White	952,155	Chinese	19
Colored	43,107	Indians	815

Population according to Census of 1885, 1,268,562. Rate of Increase, 27.35.

Kansas lies within the meridians of 94° 37′ and 102° west longitude and the parallels 37° and 40° north latitude, and is bounded on the north by Nebraska, on the south by the Indian Territory, on the east by the Missouri River and the State of Missouri, and on the west by Colorado. It is the central State of the Union, being equi-distant from the Pacific and Atlantic oceans on the west and east and the British possessions and Mexico on the north and south, and contains an area of 81,318 square miles, or 52,043,520 acres.

The surface slopes gently from the base of the Rockies to the Mississippi, but the surface is diversified with river hills formed by the action of the water on the yielding soil. The principal rivers are the Missouri, which washes the northeastern boundary; the Kansas, which, with its affluents, the Smoky Hill, Delaware, Blue, Republican, Solomon and Saline rivers, drains the northern portion of the State and empties into the Missouri; the Arkansas, which drains all Southern Kansas, and the Osage, which flows through the east and central portion of the State.

The climate is mild and healthful, the mean annual temperature as observed at Lawrence being about 53°—that of the summer 75.82 and of the winter 31.65. The average annual rainfall is about 31.75 inches. The river bottoms are covered by dense forests of the different deciduous trees common to this latitude, and the eastern uplands are rich prairies. Coal, iron, salt, gypsum, alum and petroleum are found in paying quantities, the supply of coal being amply sufficient to meet the home demand. The principal industry is agriculture, the eastern half of the State being specially adapted to farming and the western to grazing.

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments in operation at that time to have been 2,803; capital invested, $11,192,315; number of hands employed, 12,064; total wages paid during the year, $3,999,599; value of materials, $21,407,941; value of products, $30,790,212.

Kansas is well provided with churches, colleges and schools, and, in proportion to its population, ranks second to no State in the Union in these particulars.

The following table shows the increase in population for the past 25 years:

1860	107,206	1880	996,096
1870	372,299	1885	1,268,562

There are no medicinal springs, and the only medical institution in the State is a preparatory college located at Lawrence.

Rate of Mortality in Kansas as Computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored	Rate per 1,000 White.	Rate per 1,000 Colored.
996,996	15,160	15.22	14,100	1,060	14.80	24.12

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880, was 1,117, which was at the rate of 1.10 per 1,000 of population, or 73.68 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF KANSAS.

In 1879, an act to regulate the practice of medicine in Kansas was passed, which authorized the Kansas Medical Society, the Eclectic Medical Society of the State of Kansas, and the Homœopathic State Medical Society, each, to appoint a board of examiners. These boards were empowered to grant certificates to those presenting diplomas duly authenticated, as well as to those passing an examination by either one of the boards; and such certificates were conclusive as to the right of the recipients to practice in the State.

National Union Vaccine Co., Chicago, Ill., have the largest Vaccine Stables in the World. Orders promptly filled. E. L. Griffin, M. D., General Manager.

The postoffice address is shown in Display Type, the name of county in which it is located immediately follows, and then the population of the place. The names of Physicians appear under the postoffice name, the first number (the key to which will be found on pages 101 to 120) indicates the college of graduation, and the last number the year in which diploma was granted.

KENTUCKY.

CAPITAL, FRANKFORT.

POPULATION, 1,648,690.

(Census of 1880).

Males	832,590	Native	1,589,173
Females	816,100	Foreign	59,517
Whites	1,377,179	Chinese	10
Colored	271,451	Indians	50

Kentucky extends from 36° 30′ to 39° 06′ north latitude, and from 82° 06′ to 89° 44′ west longitude and is bounded on the north by Ohio, Illinois and Indiana, on the west by Missouri, on the south by Tennessee, and on the east by Virginia and West Virginia. The state comprises an area of 37,480 square miles, or 23,987,200 acres. It has a river boundary of 813 miles, its northern border being washed by the Ohio, its eastern by the Big Sandy or Chattaroi, and its western by the Mississippi; nearly all the other rivers which drain the State are affluents of the Ohio.

The climate here, as in all parts of the United States, is variable, but in Kentucky is marked by no unhealthy extremes, the mean annual temperature being 55° F, that of the summer 73.96, and of the winter 38. The average annual rainfall along the Ohio river is about 48 inches and in the southern extremity 60 inches.

Coal and iron abound and a large portion of the State is covered by primitive forests of deciduous trees. The soil is extremely fertile and productive, all the crops of the Mississippi valley flourishing here, with the exception of the sugar cane. Corn and tobacco are the staples, and the former is largely used in the manufacture of the celebrated Kentucky whiskey, which is one of the principal exports.

The blooded horses of Kentucky have a national reputation.

The following table shows increase in population for the past 60 years.

1820	564,135	1860	1,155,684
1830	687,917	1870	1,321,011
1840	779,828	1880	1,648,690
1850	982,405

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments in operation at that time to have been 5,328; capital invested, $45,813,039; number of hands employed, 37,391; total wages paid during the year, $11,657,844; value of materials, $47,461,890; value of products, $75,483,377.

The following is a list of the medical colleges in Kentucky:

University of Louisville, Medical Department, Louisville.

Kentucky School of Medicine, Louisville.

MEDICAL LAWS OF KENTUCKY.

AN ACT to Protect Citizens of this Commonwealth from Empiricism.

Whereas, The people are liable to be imposed upon by charlatans and incompetent physicians and surgeons; and Whereas, it is of the highest importance that none but persons with competent qualifications should be allowed to practice a profession to whose skill and ability the life of the individual is intrusted; therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

SECTION 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person, for reward or compensation, within the limits of this State, to practice medicine in any of its departments, or to prescribe, or attempt to prescribe, medicine for any sick person, or perform, or attempt to perform, any surgical operation upon any person within said limits, who has not graduated at some chartered school of medicine in this or some foreign country, or who cannot produce a certificate of qualification from some one of the boards of examiners provided for in this act, and is not a person of good moral character.

2. Any person who has been regularly and honorably engaged in the practice of medicine, in any of its departments, for ten years, shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of this act. Any person having been so engaged for five years shall be allowed one year in which to comply with said provisions.

3. The Governor shall, within sixty days from the passage of this act, appoint five citizens in each and every judicial district in this State; said citizens shall be practicing physicians of acknowledged learning and ability, and regular graduates of some chartered medical college, who shall constitute and be styled "The Board of Medical Examiners," for said district; three of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Their term of office shall be four (4) years, beginning the first day of April, 1874; and it shall be the duty of the Governor, each four years thereafter, and prior to the first day of April, to appoint their successors, who shall have the qualifications herein required.

4. It shall be the duty of each of said boards to meet and hold annual sessions in their respective districts, at some central, convenient place, easy of access, to be by them selected, commencing on the first Monday in June of each year, for the purpose of examining all applicants who desire to practice medicine, in any of its departments. The examination shall be conducted in such manner and to such extent as the examiners may deem most conducive to the interests and wants of the people and the advancement of learning in the medical profession, and to embrace the following branches of medical science, viz: Chemistry, anatomy, physiology, obstetrics, surgery, and so much of practical medicine as relates to the nomenclature, history and symptoms of disease. The several boards may hold extra sessions, if they deem it necessary, at any time and place in their respective districts they may think proper.

5. The examination shall require all applicants to produce satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and to pay an examination fee of not more than twenty dollars. The sessions of the several boards shall continue long enough to give all who desire it an opportunity to undergo a fair and impartial examination.

6. The examiners shall grant all applicants—who shall be found upon examination to possess a fair, practical knowledge of the branches named in section four of this act—a certificate of qualification, signed by at least three members of said board, which shall entitle the holder thereof, for the time specified, to practice any or all of the branches named in said certificate, anywhere in said district or adjoining district.

7. The members of the several boards shall receive as compensation for their services, all of the fees paid by applicants for examination before said board. Certificates shall designate the time and the branches the holder thereof shall be entitled to practice, and shall not be granted for a longer period than five years, nor a less period than one year.

8. Any person living in this State, or any person coming into this State, who shall practice medicine or attempt to practice medicine, in any of its departments, or who shall perform or attempt to perform any surgical operation, for or upon any person within the limits of this State, for reward or compensation, in violation of the provisions of this act, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined fifty dollars, and upon each and every subsequent conviction be fined one hundred dollars and imprisoned thirty days, or either, or both, in the discretion of the jury; and in no case where the provision of this act has been violated, shall the person so violating be entitled to receive compensation for services rendered.

9. Provided, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to apply to persons practicing dentistry.

10. This act shall be in force from its passage.

Approved February 23, 1874.

LOUISIANA.

CAPITAL, BATON ROUGE.

POPULATION OF STATE, 939,946.

(Census 1880).

Males	468,754	Native	885,800
Females	471,192	Foreign	54,146
White	454,954	Chinese	489
Colored	483,655	Indians	848

Louisiana is bounded on the north by Arkansas and Mississippi, on the south by the Gulf of Mexico, on the east by Mississippi, and on the west by Texas, and extends from 89° 30 to 94° west longitude, and from 29° to 33° north latitude. It comprises an area of 41,346 square miles, or 26,461,440 acres. The State throughout is a low, alluvial plain, and the southeastern and eastern counties are swampy, while those in the northwest and west, being somewhat hilly, are better drained. Much of the soil bordering on the Mississippi is below the level of the river during high water, and is protected from inundation by levees of earth similar to the dikes of Holland.

The principal river of Louisiana is the Mississippi, which is navigable throughout its entire length in the State for the largest steamboats, and at all seasons of the year. The Red river, also navigable, extends through the northwestern and central portion of the State. The Washita in the north and Calcasieu in the south are the next most important rivers. Many lakes and lagoons are scattered over the State, the largest being Ponchartrain, which is connected with the Gulf of Mexico by Lake Borgne, which is navigable.

The climate is warm, but the winters are colder and more variable than in the same latitude on the Atlantic coast. The mean annual temperature, as observed at New Orleans, is 69.06; that of the summer, 81.08, and of the winter, 56. The average annual rainfall is about 51 inches. Vegetation is luxuriant, and many tropical plants and fruits flourish here, and sugar and cotton are the agricultural staples.

Iron, ochre, gypsum, marl and coal are the principal minerals.

The following table shows the increase in population for the past 60 years:

1820	152,923	1860	708,002
1830	215,739	1870	726,915
1840	352,411	1880	939,946
1850	517,762

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments in operation at that time to have been 1,553; capital invested, $11,462,468; number of hands employed, 12,167; total wages paid during the year, $4,358,841; value of materials, $14,442, 506; value of products, $24,205,183.

The best known mineral springs in the State are the De Soto Mineral Springs, in De Soto county, and the Louisiana White Sulphur Springs, in Catahoula county.

Rate of Mortality in Louisiana, as computed from the U. S. Census of 1880.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1,000 White.	Rate per 1,000 Colored.
939,946	14,514	15.44	7,038	7,476	15.46	15.41

Total number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 1,514, which was at the rate of 1.60 per 1,000 of population, or 104.31 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF LOUISIANA.

AN ACT Relative to the Practice of Medicine and Surgery.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Louisiana:

SECTION 1. That no person shall be allowed to practice medicine or surgery, as a means of livelihood, in any of its departments, without first making affidavit before a duly qualified judge or justice of the peace, or clerk of the district court, or notary public, in the parish wherein he resides, of his having received the degree of doctor of medicine from a regularly incorporated medical institution of respectable standing in America or in Europe, and designating its name and locality, and the date of his diploma, such degree to be manifested by a diploma issued by such institution, and its respectable standing to be evidenced by the indorsement or certificate of the State Board of Health written on the face of said diploma and signed by the secretary; said affidavit shall also contain the full name of the person making the same, the date and place of his birth, and the names and places where he may have previously practiced medicine or surgery; and for every diploma certified or vised by the said Board of Health, a fee of fifty cents shall be paid by the applicant, and a record of diplomas certified shall be preserved by said State Board of Health, and copies thereof, certified by the secretary, shall be received in evidence by the courts of this State: Provided, that the said State Board of Health shall be required to certify the diploma of any medical institution of credit and respectability, without regard to its system of therapeutics, and whether the same be regular, homœopathic or eclectic.

2. That the affidavit required in the first section of this act shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the district court of the parish, who shall make such record in a book to be kept for that purpose only, and also certify such recordation by an indorsement on the original affidavit, which the affiant shall transmit to the State Board of Health; the officer before whom the affidavit is made, unless he be a judge, shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents; and the officer recording the same, to a fee of one dollar; the clerk of the court shall charge no fee for the preservation of the original affidavits, but a copy thereof, duly certified by the clerk of the court, shall be admissible in evidence, and a fee of fifty cents shall be paid for said copy.

3. That the provisions of this act shall not apply to female practitioners of midwifery as such, nor to persons who have been practicing medicine or surgery in this State without diplomas for the period of five years prior to the passage of this act, nor to persons who have been practicing medicine or surgery in this State with diplomas emanating from a regularly incorporated medical institution of reputable standing in America or in Europe, for ten years prior to the passage of this act: Provided, that such practitioners of medicine or surgery shall make an affidavit before any judge, justice of the peace, notary public or clerk of court of the parish wherein he resides, setting forth the following facts: The full name of the person making the affidavit, the date and place of his birth, the date of his diploma, if he have any, and the name and locality of the institution by which it was made, the date and place where he began the practice of medicine in Louisiana, and the names of the places where he may have previously practiced medicine or surgery; such affidavit shall be transmitted or delivered to the State Board of Health and shall entitle the affiant to be placed on the list of registered physicians or surgeons, the publication of which is hereinafter provided for, and the officer before whom such affidavit is made shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents; and the said State Board of Health shall preserve said affidavits, and a copy thereof, signed by the secretary, shall be received as evidence in the courts of this State, and for such copy a fee of fifty cents shall be paid. And any person who shall, in the affidavit required by this section, wilfully make any false statement, shall be deemed guilty of the crime of perjury, and punished in the manner provided by existing laws for the punishment of the crime of perjury.

4. That a copy of the affidavit recorded by the clerk of the district court, certified by him, shall be prima facie evidence that the person making the affidavit is a duly registered physician or surgeon, and a certified copy of the original affidavit filed with the State Board of Health, or a certificate emanating from said State Board of Health, that the name of the person mentioned in the certificate is on the list of registered physicians and surgeons, shall be conclusive evidence of the fact.

5. That it shall be the duty of the State Board of Health to publish annually, in the official journal of the State, and if there be no such journal, in one of the daily newspapers published in the city of New Orleans, a list of all the registered physicians and surgeons in the State, and their places of residence, and such published list shall be received in evidence by the courts of this State as proof that the physicians and surgeons therein named are duly registered, as required by law; and the said State Board of Health is hereby required to strike from said list the names of such persons who may have been convicted of any infamous crimes by any court of this State or of the United States, or of any State of the United States, whether such conviction occur prior or posterior to registration; and it is also empowered to strike from said list the names of persons who may die after registration. If any person is improperly stricken from said list, he may be restored by writ of mandamus, issued by the judicial tribunals of the State, sitting in chambers, competent to investigate such cases.

6. That any practitioner of medicine or surgery, failing to comply with the requirements of this act, shall not be exempt from jury or militia duty, nor be permitted to collect any fees or charges for services rendered, nor be allowed to testify as a medical or surgical expert in legal or State medicine in any court of this State, nor to execute any certificate as a surgeon or physician, nor to hold any medical office, nor to be recognized by the State or any parish or municipal corporation as a physician or surgeon; nor shall he be entitled to enjoy any of the privileges, rights or exemptions granted to physicians or surgeons by the laws of this State; and moreover, he shall forfeit and be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each and every violation of this act, and for each and every time he so violates it, said sum or sums to be recovered in a civil action to be brought before any court of competent jurisdiction, in the name and for the benefit of the Charity Hospital at New Orleans; and he shall, in addition thereto, be subject to criminal prosecution and be punished in the manner prescribed by law for violations of this act.

7. That this act shall not apply to practitioners of medicine or surgery residing and practicing in other States who may be summoned in special instances to attend patients in the State of Louisiana by any registered physician.

8. This act shall take effect on and after the first day of January, 1883.

The State of Maine is located in the extreme northeastern portion of the United States, and extends from 43° 5′ to 47° 30′ north latitude, and from 66° 50′ to 71° west longitude. It is bounded on the north by Canada, on the south by the Atlantic Ocean, on the east by New Brunswick, and on the west by New Hampshire, and comprises an area of 35,000 square miles or 22,400,000 acres. The western portion of the State is mountainous, the range being part of the Appalachian system.

Maine is well supplied with lakes and rivers, the principal rivers being the Androscoggin, Kennebec, Penobscot, Grand, St. John and Saco, besides which there are a vast number of smaller streams which irrigate and drain every portion of the State.

The climate is healthful, and the winters, although long and severe, are unmarked by injurious variations, while the summers are pleasant. The mean annual temperature at Portland is 43.00, that of the summer 63.73, and of the winter 21.69. These figures are the result of observations extending over a period of 37 years. The average annual rainfall is about 44.50 inches.

A considerable portion of the State is covered by large forests of coniferous and deciduous trees, the former being, however, much more abundant than the latter. Wild animals and game are met with in the more unsettled portions, while migratory birds, such as geese, ducks and passenger pigeons, abound during the summer months.

Granite and marble are the only minerals.

The following table shows the increase in population for the past 60 years:

1820	298,269	1860	628,279
1830	399,455	1870	626,915
1840	501,719	1880	648,936
1850	583,169

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments in operation at that time to have been 4,481; capital invested, $49,984,571; number of hands employed, 52,949; total wages paid during year, $13,621,538; value of materials, $51,119,286; value of products, $79,825,393.

Its educational and religious advantages are excellent.

The principal agricultural products are hay, potatoes, corn, wheat, oats and barley, and the manufacture of cotton is one of the leading industries.

The best known medicinal springs in the State are the Summit mineral springs in Cumberland county, and the Togus springs in Kennebec county.

Rate of Mortality in Maine, as computed from the U. S. Census of 1880:

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1,000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1,000, White.	Rate per 1,000, Colored.
648,936	9,523	14.67	9,470	53	14.64	25.43

MEDICAL LAWS OF MAINE.

An effort was made at the last session of the Legislature to pass a bill, of which the following were the provisions: Graduates of institutions legally qualified to confer medical degrees and all who had practiced without a diploma for thirteen or more years continuously, should be allowed to register. All persons practicing medicine without having been registered should be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof be punished by a fine of from one to five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment of from three to twelve months, or both.

This bill was favored by the better elements of all sects; but quacks, botanics, magnetics and Druids (the latter a class peculiar to this State), combined, and defeated the bill by a small majority in the House. It had passed the Senate quite unanimously.

Maryland is bounded on the north by Pennsylvania, on the south and west by Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, and on the east by the Atlantic Ocean and Delaware. It is one of the thirteen original States, and extends from 37° 43′ to 39° 45′ north latitude and from 75° 10′ to 79° 30′ west longitude, and comprises an area of 11,124 square miles, or 7,119,360 acres. The State is divided throughout almost its entire length into two unequal parts by the Chesapeake Bay. The surface of the eastern shore is mostly level, and is in parts swampy, but towards the north it is hilly and broken; the northwest is mountainous, being traversed by six ridges of the Alleghanies. The principal rivers of Maryland are the Susquehanna, Potomac, Pokomoke, Wicomico, Nanticoke, Choptank, Gunpowder, Patapsco, etc. The climate is mild and healthful, being tempered by the proximity of the ocean. The mean annual temperature, as observed at Baltimore, is 54.91—that of the summer 75.08 and of the winter 34.50. The average annual rainfall is about 41 inches. Pine forests are found in the eastern portion, cypress trees abound in Central Maryland, and many varieties of deciduous trees are interspersed throughout the State. Iron and coal are extensively mined and constitute the chief mineral wealth. Copper, nickel, cobalt, galena, alum and barytes are also found, and marble and building stones are abundant. Tobacco, wheat, corn and fruit are the principal productions, and the oyster fisheries are the most extensive on the Atlantic coast.

The postoffice address is shown in Display Type, the name of county in which it is located immediately follows, and then the population of the place. The names of Physicians appear under the postoffice name, the first number (the key to which will be found on pages 101 to 120) indicates the college of graduation, and the last number the year in which diploma was granted.

The following table shows the increase in population for the past 60 years:

1820	407,350	1860	687,049
1830	447,040	1870	780,894
1840	470,019	1880	934,943
1850	583,034

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments in operation at that time to have been 6,787; capital invested, $58,735,684; number of hands employed, 74,942, total wages paid during year, $18,904,065; value of materials, $66,923,630; value of products, $106,771,393.

Maryland possesses religious and educational facilities of a high order.

The following is a list of the Medical colleges in the State: School of Medicine of the University of Maryland, Baltimore; College of Physicians and Surgeons, Baltimore; Baltimore Medical College, Baltimore; Women's Medical College of Baltimore, Baltimore; Baltimore University School of Medicine, Baltimore; and a preliminary college known as the John Hopkins University, Medical Department, Baltimore.

MEDICAL LAWS OF MARYLAND.

In the beginning of the present century, the medical and chirurgical faculty of Maryland, by act of the general assembly (passed January 20, 1799), was incorporated, and authorized to elect by ballot a board of "twelve persons of the greatest medical and chirurgical abilities in the State, who shall be styled the Medical Board of Examiners for the State of Maryland." The duty of this board was to grant licenses to such medical and chirurgical gentlemen as they, either upon a full examination, or upon the production of diplomas from some respectable college, may judge adequate to commence the practice of the medical and chirurgical arts, each person so obtaining a certificate to pay a sum not exceeding ten dollars, to be fixed on, or ascertained by, the faculty.

Section V of this act provided "That after the appointment of the aforesaid medical board, no person, not already a practitioner of medicine or surgery, shall be allowed to practice in either of the said branches, and receive payment for his services, without having first obtained a license certified as by this law directed, under the penalty of fifty dollars for each offense, to be recovered in the county court where he may reside, by bill of presentment and indictment, one-half for the use of the faculty and the other for that of the informer.

This sixth section of the charter of the medical and chirurgical faculty was abrogated by an act of the general assembly passed sometime between 1840 and 1850, in favor of the Thompsonians, who then had a large following in the State. This opened the door to quackery of all sorts, and until 1867, there was no regulative act in existence.

In the latter year an act was passed constituting a board of medical examiners appointed by the governor, whose duty it was to register all practitioners holding recognized diplomas, examine and grant licenses to such as applied, and grant certificates to practice, to such as had been in continuous practice in the State for ten years previous to the passage of the act. The first prosecution under the act showed its insufficiency, and in the following year (1868) the law was repealed, and only one section, relating to abortion, was re-enacted.

This latter act (section 16 of article 72 of the revised code of 1878) is the only existing regulation on the practice of medicine in the State. It provides that any person who shall knowingly publish or furnish means for procuring abortion shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than three years, or by a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or both, at the discretion of the court.

In 1880 some attempts were made to pass a regulative act, but I believe it was not generally sustained by the profession, owing to serious defects in the measure proposed.

It is proposed to bring the matter up before the next session of the general assembly, if the medical and chirurgical faculty can be induced to lend the movement its support and encouragement.

In the city of Baltimore there is in force an ordinance for the registration of physicians and midwives; but as there is no other guide to the competency of the persons applying for registration than the statements of the parties themselves, the commissioner is obliged to register all who apply. The commissioner can, of course, refuse to register an applicant, but it would probably result in a suit at law against the city or the commissioner. Hence the ordinance is not much of a safeguard against unqualified practitioners.

A State Board of Health is also in existence. It consists of seven members. The secretary of the board must be an "educated physician and experienced in sanitary science." He is a member of the board, being elected to the position by the other six members. The salary of the secretary (act of 1880) is $1,800 per annum. $1,200 are appropriated for expenses of the board.

MASSACHUSETTS.

CAPITAL, BOSTON.

POPULATION, 1,783,085.

(Census of 1880).

Males	858,440	Native	1,339,594
Females	924,645	Foreign	443,491
Whites	1,763,782	Chinese	237
Colored	18,697	Indians	369

POPULATION, 1885, 1,941,465; rate of increase 8.88.

The State of Massachusetts, which was included in the original thirteen, extends from 41° 15′ to 42° 55′ north latitude and from 69° 56′ to 73° 31′ west longitude, and comprises an area of 7,800 square miles, or 4,992,000 acres. It is bounded on the north by Vermont and New Hampshire, on the east by the Atlantic Ocean, on the south by Rhode Island and Connecticut, and on the west by the State of New York. The surface is greatly diversified, the western portion being mountainous, the southeastern low and sandy. None of the rivers of Massachusetts are navigable, but many of them afford excellent water power. The principal ones are the Connecticut, which traverses the western portion of the State from north to south; the Housatonic, Merrimac, Blackstone, Taunton, Charles R and Mystic.

The climate is cool and salubrious, the winters being severe and long and the summers warm but short. The mean annual temperature as observed at New Bedford during a period of 58 years is 48.56; that of the summer 66.95 and of the winter 30.21. The average annual rainfall is about 45 inches.

The soil in the Connecticut valley is extremely fertile, but in other portions only moderately so. Corn, tobacco and wool are the principal productions. A number of the inhabitants of the sea ports are engaged in fishing, which is one of the important industries of Massachusetts.

The following table shows increase in population for the past 65 years:

1820	523,159	1860	1,231,066
1830	610,408	1870	1,457,351
1840	737,699	1880	1,783,085
1850	994,514	1885	1,941,465

The census of manufactures for 1880 shows the number of establishments in operation at that time to have been 14,352; capital invested, $303,806,185; number of hands employed, 352,255; total wages paid during the year, $128,315,362; value of materials, $386,952,655; value of products, $631,511,484.

The medical colleges of Massachusetts are the Harvard University Medical School, Boston; Boston University School of Medicine (Homo), Boston; and the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Boston.

The best known medicinal springs are the Berkshire soda spring, Berkshire county; the Hopkinton springs (chalybeate), Middlesex county, and the Milford springs in Hillsborough county.

Rate of Mortality in Massachusetts, as computed from U. S. Census of '80.

Population.	Deaths in 1880.	Rate per 1000.	White.	Colored.	Rate per 1000 White.	Rate per 1000 Colored.
1,783,085	33,149	18.59	32,720	429	18.55	22.22

The number of deaths from consumption during 1880 was 5,207, which was at the rate of 2.90 per 1,000 of population, or 157.07 per 1,000 of total deaths.

MEDICAL LAWS OF MASSACHUSETTS.

The Illinois State Board of Health referring to this subject, says:

SAMUEL W. ABBOTT, M. D., of Wakefield, writes: "In reply to your letter requesting copies of our laws relating to the practice of medicine, I will say that we are all well aware of the excellent progress made by Illinois in this direction, and only wish that the whole Union might follow her example. Three years since a similar law was proposed, and a bill presented to the Legislature of Massachusetts. Several hearings were had before the committee on public health, but such a storm of opposition was raised by the Boston quacks as to kill the bill completely, and the feeble efforts to resurrect it have proved of no avail.

Michigan consists of two irregular peninsulas known as the Upper and Lower Peninsulas; the former is bounded on the north by Lake Superior, on the south by Lakes Michigan and Huron, on the southwest by Wisconsin, and on the east by the St. Mary's river, which separates it from Ontario; the latter or lower peninsula is bounded on the northwest and west by Lake Michigan, on the northeast by Lake Huron, on the south by Indiana and Ohio, and on the east by Lake Huron, the St. Clair river, Lake St. Clair, the Detroit river and Lake Erie.

The State extends from 41° 30′ to 47° 31′ north latitude, and from 82° 24′ to 90° 33′ west longitude, and comprises an area of 56,451 square miles, or 36,128,640 acres. The surface of the Upper Peninsula is broken and rocky and includes several irregular mountain ranges. The Lower Peninsula is more level. The principal rivers of the north are the Montreal, Presque Isle, Ontonagon, Menominee and Escanaba rivers, and of the south, Saginaw, Manistee, Pere Marquette, Kalamazoo, Clinton, Muskegon, Huron, Cheboygan, Thunder Bay, etc., etc. The climate is mild but the temperature varies considerably, the mean annual temperature as observed at Fort Mackinac being 41.02, and at Detroit 47.25. The average annual rainfall varies from 23 inches at Mackinac to 30 at Detroit. The Upper Peninsula and the northern portion of the Lower are covered by pine

MEDICAL LAWS OF MICHIGAN.

AN ACT TO PROMOTE PUBLIC HEALTH.

SECTION 1. The people of the State of Michigan enact, That from and after this act shall take effect, it shall not be lawful for any person to practice medicine or surgery, or any branch thereof (except dentistry), in this State, without having the qualifications required in the provisions of this act, and without having first registered in the office of the county clerk, as provided in this act.

2. The necessary qualifications to practice medicine in this State shall be—

First—That every person who shall have actually practiced medicine continuously for at least five years in this State, and who is practicing when this act shall take effect, shall be deemed qualified to practice medicine in this State, after having registered in the office of the county clerk, as provided by this act:

Second—Every graduate of any legally authorized medical college in this State, or in any one of the United States, or in any other country, shall be deemed qualified to practice medicine and surgery in all its departments, after having registered as provided in this act: Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not be construed so as to prohibit any student or undergraduate from practicing with and under the instruction of any person legally qualified to practice medicine and surgery under and by the provisions of this act: Provided, that every person qualified to practice medicine and surgery under the provisions of this act shall, within three months after this act shall take effect, file with the county clerk of the county wherein he has been engaged in practice, or in which he intends to practice, a statement sworn to before any officer authorized to administer oaths in said county, setting forth, first, if he is actually engaged in practice in said county, the length of time he has been engaged in such continuous practice, and if a graduate of any medical college, the name of the same and where located, when he graduated, and the length of time he attended the same, also the school of medicine to which he belongs. And if he is a student or under-graduate, the length of time he has been engaged in the study of medicine, and where; and if he has attended a medical college, the name of the same and where located, and the length of time so attended and when, also the name and residence of the physician under whose instruction he is practicing or intends to practice. It shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county in this State to record, in a book to be provided by the county, the affidavit (or sworn statement) of every physician practicing in said county. For recording such statement, the county clerk shall receive fifty cents, to be paid by the person filing the same.

3. It shall be the duty of the supervisor, at the time of making the annual assessment in each year, to make out a list of all the physicians and each student practicing under the instruction of a preceptor residing within his township, village, ward or city, with the name, age, sex and color of each, and the length of time each has been engaged in practice, and if a graduate of a regularly established and reputable college, the name of the college and the date of graduation. Such list shall be returned by the supervisor to the township, village or city clerk, and by the clerk recorded in the book in which are kept the records of the local board of health.

4. No person who practices medicine, surgery or midwifery in any of their branches (except dentistry) shall be able, in any of the courts of the State, to collect pay for professional services rendered subsequent to the time that this act shall take effect, unless he was, at the time such professional services were rendered, duly qualified and registered as a medical practitioner according to the several provisions of this act.

5. The supervisor, township, village or city clerk is hereby authorized to administer the oaths required by this act.

6. Whoever advertises or holds himself out to the public as authorized to practice medicine or surgery in this state, when in fact he is not authorized under the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be liable to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each offense.

7. It shall be the duty of the supervisor and the health officer of the local board of health in each township, village, ward or city to enforce this act. This act shall take effect September 7, 1883.

National Union Vaccine Co., Chicago, Ill., have the finest establishment of the kind extant. E. L. Griffin, M. D., General Manager. Send for Circulars.
